'Not unusually severe'

Hospital defends its treatment techniques

By VONNE ROBERTSON
PB Staff Writer

Stunned officials at Pacific State Hospital in Pomona deny a "confidential report" given to the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors that they use "unusually severe" punishments at the hospital for mentally retarded.

Charges were made by Liston A. Witherill, director of health services for Los Angeles County, to Supervisor Baxter Ward on Tuesday that patients were subjected to shock treatment, cattle prods and deprivation in attempts to control their behavior.

Ken Harrison, hospital spokesman, said all techniques used at Pacific State form a legitimate part of the treatment procedures which are approved and used at state hospitals and other facilities throughout the nation.

Harrison added that the hospital learned of the charges only after being notified by the press, but that there are constant inspections at Pacific State and the officials have always been cooperative and made charts and records available.

"Adversive behavior programs are used only after all other positive programs have been exhausted. Then, these methods are used to control residents who display aggressive behavior which endangers themselves or others," Harrison said.

The district attorney's office is now investigating the reports and state Health Director Jerome Lackner said he will personally inspect Pacific State Hospital today.

Prominent psychologists from outside the state department will also inspect therapy programs at the Pomona hospital, state health department officials announced.

At issue is whether the treatment is legitimate therapy or is done "mainly to keep people in line with the rules," said Deputy Dist. Atty. George Oakes Tuesday.

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, one of those who received Witherill's confidential memo, said the treatments described in the report "have to be stopped right now."

"No human being has the right to treat another human being in that manner, regardless of the circumstances," he declared. "This is particularly so when you are treating sick people."

Among the charges made to the supervisors was that the staff is permitted to withhold up to four consecutive meals.

"A regular meal may be withheld, but under strict control," Harrison said. "But we've never withheld four meals from anyone. Even though one meal is withheld as a behavior modification treatment, the patient is given a supplemental feeding."

Harrison said the term "shock treatment" is misleading and causes people to associate it with the severe shock programs used in the past.

"No one has ever been treated with electro-convulsive therapy at Pacific State Hospital," said the spokesman.

"No one has ever been attached to any therapy devise which emits an electric stimulus at more than one point on his body, either a hand, arm or leg," he added.

Harrison described the type of electric shock used as "not strong enough to produce a lingering stimulus, but it does produce a momentary pain."

According to Witherill, one patient's chart showed that for one month in 1976, a cattle prod was used on him 584 times. The chart indicated that the stimulus has been used on the resident 1,321 times in four months last year.

Harrison said the so-called "cattle prod" is actually a modified device used to interrupt the resident's adversive behavior.

"This would break down to about 18 times a day," said Harrison in discussing the use of the prod.

"This may have been applied to a

AARHUS, Denmark (AP) — As the minister intoned a benediction, a member of his Lutheran congregation rose in his pew in the village church of Sabro near here and called out:

"Vicar, there is something I want to say to you. This is no threat, but unless you stop running after my wife you'll be in for a sound trashing."

R. Falka Gregersen, a 51-year-old civil engineer, was fined $50 by a district court today for disturbing the peace during last year's Christmas Eve service.

The Rev. Sven Voss, 42, was fired by the ministry of churches.

The minister, whose own wife had left him and sought a divorce, conceded in court that relations between him and the parishioner's wife had gone beyond mere friendship.

Gregersen, who told the court he once considered the vicar his best friend, said "since the church is where the priest gives his messages to the congregation I decided that the church must also be the place where I gave my message to the priest."

Danced out

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Harvey Gartley lost his boxing match by dancing himself to the canvas in the first round. His opponent never landed a punch.

Ringside observers said Gartley "danced himself into exhaustion" and collapsed after 47 seconds. His opponent, Dennis Oulette of Rogers City, was awarded a technical knockout victory.

The nonbattle came in the preliminaries of the 15th annual Saginaw Regional Golden Gloves Tournament.

Basketball?

ROXBORO, N.C. (AP) — For play-by-play commentator Frank Manson, the basketball game was more a case of stall-by-stall. Hillside High made the first and last basket — but it was the same one. Final score: 2-0.

Leon McRae of the Hillside Hornets dunked the winning shot on the opening tipoff against the Person High Rockets Tuesday night. After that, Hillside went into a zone defense, while Person froze the ball, shooting once and missing at the end of each quarter.

Carter to deliver his first TV talk to nation tonight

Energy likely to key topics

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter will use a low-key format in delivering his first broadcast report to the American people tonight.

All three major television networks plan to carry Carter's report live at 7 p.m. PST.

Aides said the President plans to use a conversational tone for his speech, being referred to as a "fireside chat," although Carter reportedly doesn't like the term.

The ground floor library at the White House was chosen as the setting for the address, aides said, to provide a contrast with more formal presidential addresses of the recent past, delivered from behind President-sized desks in the Oval Office.

Although Carter can be counted on for his customary soft-spoken delivery, aides made it clear his objective is to enlist popular support for his major domestic and foreign policy goals, and to convince voters he is moving vigorously on their behalf to deal with a weather-aggravated energy crisis in the East and a below-par economy nationwide.

Carter, during the campaign, pledged he would deliver periodic "fireside chats." But Press Secretary Jody Powell said that term would not be used officially to describe the President's appearance. Powell said Carter and his aides are still looking for an appropriate label for such broadcasts.

The report is part of a broader Carter plan to picture himself as a leader in close touch with the concerns of ordinary citizens. That effort began on Inauguration Day when he, wife Rosalynn and daughter Amy eschewed the presidential limousine and walked to the White House from the oath-taking session

The search continues for avenues Carter can use to keep in touch with citizens and their everyday concerns.

Panel concludes Ray acted alone

WASHINGTON (AP) — After a 10-month review, a team of Justice Department lawyers has concluded that James Earl Ray acted alone in the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, informed department sources said today.

The lawyers rejected theories that Ray was only a cog in a conspiracy to assassinate the Nobel Prize-winning civil rights leader, the sources said.

The team of lawyers from the department's Office of Professional Responsibility delivered its report to former Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi shortly before he left office Jan. 20.

Hopeful signs in East, Midwest crisis

By MARC CHARNEY
Associated Press Writer

Conservation measures appeared to be easing the drain on natural gas in the cold-plagued Midwest and East today, but htere were warnings that the factory closings and layoffs designed to save the fuel could last until April.

The Senate approved a compromise version of the emergency natural gas bill today and House passage was hoped for before President Carter's televised appearance tonight.

The bill is not designed to increase natural gas supplies, but to give the President the power to shift some gas from low-priority users — such as industry — to high-priority users such as schools, homes, hospitals and small businesses.

Over thousands of miles of American countryside, the misery of the harsh winter was evident. But there were some hopeful signs.

The first contingent of a 200-member Army Engineers battalion from North Carolina and more than two dozen pieces of snow-fighting equipment arrived in Buffalo, N.Y., to help National Guardsmen clear the city after a blizzard that so far has cost the area an estimated $60 million.

The National Weather Service predicted temperatures up to 30 degrees today in Buffalo, no significant snow and winds easing to 12-to 25-miles per hour. The sun had broken through the clouds there on Tuesday for the first time since high winds, snow and cold struck last Friday.

65 by day, 55 by night

Lower thermostats, urges PUC

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Californians are being urged to turn down their thermostats and wear sweaters to help conserve natural gas for other parts of the nation suffering from shortages.

"The steps are being taken because jobs are being lost and people are dying" in other parts of the country, state Public Utilities Commission President Robert Batinovich said Tuesday in announcing the voluntary conservation order, effective immediately.

Batinovich said the restrictions, characterized as a "moral injunction," include lowerering thermostats to no more than 65 during the day and 55 at night.

They also include curbs on luxury uses such as to heat swimming pools and operate decorative lighting and fireplaces.

The changes may make Californians uncomfortable, but fall short of the hardships experienced in the Midwest, East and South, he said.

"The energy crisis is indivisible," Batinovich declared. "What effects other parts of the country affects California."

Pacific Gas & Electric Co., which serves most of Northern California, has offered to loan Southern Natural Gas Co. of Birmingham, Ala., up to 100 million cubic feet of gas a day for a month for use in Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Florida.

Southern California Gas Co. says it will make 2.5 billion cubic feet of gas available to utilities serving Oklahoma and Kansas.

Weather

Mostly fair today and Thursday with low overnight cloudiness and early morning fog. High today 65, low tonight 40, high Thursday 68. The high Tuesday was 61 and the overnight low was 41. Thursday's sunrise 6:47, sunset 5:23.

Later this year, as the supply situation improves, the gas will be replaced, Batinovich said. But "even if we shouldn't be able to get it back, it's one country," he added.

The PUC admitted it would be tough to enforce the order. The state attorney general's office said even though the restrictions were issued in the form of an order, they have no legal weight and are "simply a request appealing to the morality of users."

The order makes no mention of electrical heating or propane gas.

Commercial and industrial businesses should shut down heating during nonbusiness hours except to prevent damage, the order says.

All hotel, motel and similar businesses were ordered not to heat or cool vacant guest rooms.

Some cities require apartment houses to be heated above the PUC-recommeneed level. A San Francisco ordinance, for example, requires apartments be heated to at least 70 degrees for 11 hours per day.

6 more weeks of winter

Groundhog predicts what everybody already knew

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa. (AP) — Punxsutawney Phil, the weather-forecasting groundhog, was lifted from his burrow at sunrise today and his interpreters said he forecast six more weeks of winter.

Phil was taken from his comfortable museum cage to windswept Gobbler's Knob an hour before the annual ceremony and tucked into his lighted and heated burrow.

Charles M. Erhard, president of the Groundhog Club, had a prepared forecast after talking to Phil in "groundhogese." Other members of the club had prepared signs ready for television and newspaper cameras, which said "Blizzard," and "Six More Weeks of Winter."

According to legend, if Phil had not seen his shadow, spring would have been just around the corner.

It was seven degrees with a wind chill factor of 25 degrees below zero on the knob when Phil made his prediction.

Balloonist up again after stop

BLYTHE, Calif. (AP) — Karl Thomas, who is trying to float across the country in 14 days under his hot air balloon, returned to the air today for the second day of his cross-country trip.

Thomas and his balloon lifted off at 4 a.m. from this California desert town, headed for Phoenix, Ariz., but a member of his ground crew said gusty winds might carry Thomas south of that city.

Thomas had decided to spend the first night of his trip in a motel instead of risking a desert crossing in darkness and subzero temperatures.

Chill crisis affects state

LOS ANGELES (AP)—City and county buildings will be chillier, but officials say people will have to get used to wearing warm clothing if precious fuel is to be conserved.

County supervisors — responding to the fuel crisis — ordered that lights, heating and air conditioning be turned off as early as possible each night in county buildings. And Mayor Tom Bradley ordered thermostats in city facilities turned down to 65 degrees.

Bradley also called on residents to take voluntary conservation steps, including keeping drapes closed at night to hold heat in homes, taking fast showers instead of slow baths, and running dishwashers and dryers with full loads only.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. has turned the thermostat down to 65 degrees in his office, and he intends to keep it there.

At least that's the idea his 90 staff members got Tuesday when workers installed shields on thermostats to prevent tampering.

Although the heat was cut back in Brown's suite, it will remain at 68 degrees in other state buildings for a few more days, said Brown's executive secretary, Gray Davis.

Davis said the governor's suite will be the test area for an "energy audit."

When the audit is complete, probably this week, an optimum temperature for energy savings will be picked.

SOLVING PARKING SHORTAGE?

Nick Pugay didn't feel like going to his San Diego office Tuesday and wishes he'd followed the hunch. "I had just closed the door when she came driving up over my car," said Pugay. His co-worker, Dorothy Jernigan, said she hit the brakes as she pulled into her parking slot, but nothing happened. She said her car then sailed into Pugay's.

City tax dropped at event

Oops! Error costs Pomona

By ED PRATHER
PB Staff Writer

Human error has cost the city of Pomona at least $20,000, it was learned this week. And while the City Council was not pleased it agreed to accept the loss.

By a 4-1 vote Monday the council adopted an emergency ordinance relieving the National Hot Rod Association, sponsors of last weekend's Winternationals drag races at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds, of the city's admissions tax.

Although the council adopted the tax last May, Wally Parks, president of the NHRA, protested the 10 per cent tax on admissions because the organizers were not informed of the tax until one day prior to event.

"Ticket printing, advertising and sales aids are planned and printed many months in advance. Your one day notice made it impossible for the tax burden to be passed on to the consumer.

"Therefore, because of your lack of proper notice, it does not appear the tax is intended to be levied on the consumer, but on the National Hot Rod Association," wrote Parks in a letter to the council.

Parks' complaint notwithstanding, the council could have gone ahead and levied the tax since there is no legal requirement to provide notice, but City Administrator Jerrold Gonce noted the city's "moral obligation" to inform event organizers well in advance.

Gonce said the mistake was an "oversight" in City Clerk Larry Thomas' office.

When it became evident the council agreed that the moral obligation existed, Walter A. Clark, a candidate for the City Council, voiced his opposition.

"Just because someone at City Hall makes a mistake I don't see why the citizens should have to pick up the tab," said Clark.

In an odd twist, City Councilman Adrian Wright voiced the strongest concern over the city's need to meet moral obligations, and then proceeded to cast the lone vote against the ordinance supporting that position.

In addition to Parks' protest for this year, his letter to the council also indicated the tax, if imposed in the future, might result in an end to the staging of the event in Pomona.

Parks termed the Winternationals a "marginal event" financially, and doubted the event could make ends meet if the tax is imposed.

He said the organization was still trying to recover from the substantial losses incurred in 1972 when the event was washed out by rain on three consecutive weekends.

Chino resident charges police showed apathy

By JON MORRIS
PB Staff Writer

A Chino resident Tuesday charged the police department with ignoring the fact his two teen-aged daughters were "attacked" at Chino High School.

Dan Hollopeter of 4735 Roosevelt St., addressing the City Council, said he was charging the police with "improper use of their force" and the council with not providing enough police officers.

Reflecting on the city's growth, Hollopeter said, "We have a 1968 police force in a 1977 town."

Hollopeter noted his daughters, aged 15 and 16, were "beaten up" by a 21-year-old male non-student on Jan. 20 and suffered numerous bruises.

He claimed that when he filed a report with the police, officers treated it lightly. Even though he warned police the alleged suspect was planning to leave town, nothing was done, he said.

Hollopeter said he was told a week later that detectives hadn't done anything on the case because they were "tied up with a homicide", and anyway, "there are only five detectives on the force."

Charges have yet to be filed with the district attorney's office, he noted, and the "suspect" is now in Wichita, Kan. "I was told I would have to take the complaint to the DA myself."

The council took no immediate action on Hollopeter's complaint, but directed Police Chief Jerry Doyle to attempt to resolve the situation.

Doyle said later the case had come up during a homicide investigation. "Some misdemeanor complaints slip by us," he admitted. "This was one that came up at the wrong time. It's true we have only five detectives — it's a small group."

The chief expressed some doubts on whether the district attorney would accept a complaint, since detectives had not talked to the boy allegedly involved in the beating.

"All we have is one side of the story," noted Doyle. "We didn't get a chance to talk to the boy because he left town."

Doyle indicated Hollopeter's daughters could take the complaint to the district attorney themselves, but it probably would be rejected. He said the only charge applicable in the case is misdemeanor battery.

Hollopeter said the case is similar to one in which you have called the fire department to report your house on fire, "and they tell you forget it, we have an arson up the street and everyone is tied up."

Miss Montclair deadline Friday

The deadline for applications for the Miss Montclair Contest is Friday.

Single female residents of Montclair between the ages of 17 and 25 may pick up the application forms from the Montclair Chamber of Commerce office, 10250 Central Ave.

All girls entering the contest will meet with Helen Tessier, director of the Wendy Ward Department of Montgomery Wards Store in Montclair for makeup, poise and posture hints and a pre-contest run.

The pageant will be held at the Montclair Theater from 9 a.m. to noon on Feb. 9.

Each girl entering the contest will have an opportunity to meet Polly Peluso, director of Playboy Models Inc. and syndicated columnist. She will serve as a judge and review all contestants for possible careers in promotional and advertising modeling through her agency. Areas in which Playboy Models Inc. use models include television, billboards, newspapers and magazine advertisements.

The winner of the pageant will reign over the Western Days activities in Montclair Feb. 14-20, participate in the Western Days parade and serve as hostess and chamber representative for various civic and community events.

Will present crisis change U.S. energy course?

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is cold comfort at best, but this energy crisis may be the one that finally creates the political climate for government action to manage problems that won't go away.

President Carter has promised to create a permanent energy policy, calling it a crime that there isn't one now. He acknowledges that it will have to include complusory measures that will not be popular. And he has said he is prepared to take them.

In Congress, there are companion calls for action to chart a long-term energy course. Those have been heard before, but this time they may mean something.

At this point, the natural gas shortage, Carter's bill to cope with it and disaster relief measures to ease the impact of scarcity and winter weather are atop the White House energy agenda. The emergency natural gas bill probably will be ready for Carter's signature by Thursday.

Then, by April 20, he has promised to send Congress a permanent, comprehensive energy policy. "The crisis may be over in a few days or a couple of weeks," the President said. "But the energy shortage is going to be with us. It's going to get worse instead of better."

This is hardly new business. "The oil embargo of 1973-74 brought home to us the vulnerability of the United States," the General Accounting Office said in a report to Congress — just as natural gas became the new crisis. "Our memories are short, however, because we rely far more heavily on imported energy today, in 1977, than we did at the time of the embargo."

Richard Nixon had his Project Independence, and said that by 1980, the United States should not be dependent on any foreign nation for its energy needs. Gerald R. Ford sought energy independence by 1985.

But the United States has moved in the opposite direction and now imports about 42 per cent of its oil at a price that will total some $40 billion this year.

The General Accounting Office estimates that by 1985 the nation could be importing 60 per cent of its oil and 10 per cent of its natural gas.

While Carter's proposal to Congress has yet to be developed, with energy adviser James R. Schlesinger as the chief draftsman, his policies were outlined during the presidential campaign.

For one thing, it is clear there will be no call for total energy independence, now or soon. Carter once called Project Independence a joke. He has said the United States is unlikely to be totally independent of oil imports in this century.

But Carter has said imports should not be permitted to increase as they have in the past. He has advocated a ceiling at or below current import levels.

Since domestic oil production has been declining while demand has increased, that would have the effect of limiting consumption by limiting the supply of imported oil. It is a step that ultimately could lead to self-imposed shortages that would require allocation or rationing.

During the campaign, Carter said the government should deregulate the price of newly produced natural gas for five years. The effect would be to remove the price ceiling so as to promote new production, while restraining by regulation or through existing contracts the price of gas already being produced. After five years, he said, the whole program would be evaluated so new action could be taken.

Carter has not said whether the package he proposes in the spring will include gas deregulation. But it will have to deal with the issue.

In broad terms, Carter has advocated a shift to coal as a major energy source, with a heavy investment in the development of solar energy, and with nuclear power as a last alternative.

He also has said a president should have authority to impose taxes to enforce energy conservation. "If patriotic appeals and strict conservation measures prove to be inadequate to control consumption, standby excise taxes should be available to the president for selective imposition on petroleum products," he said.

Those campaign ideas are a starting point, not the comprehensive policy that is now to be shaped.

The administration's challenge now is to preserve when winter is over the sense of determination and urgency created by today's crisis.

"The wolf is at the door," said Senate Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd, "and this is not a problem that is going to go away with the thaws of spring."

Man shot in family quarrel

An Ontario man was wounded in his stomach Tuesday night when he was assertedly shot by his brother-in-law as the climax to a family dispute which began Monday night, Pomona police reported.

The victim, Terry Ray Moore, 29, was taken to Pomona Valley Community Hospital where he underwent emergency surgery. He was reported in serious condition today in the hospital's intensive-care unit.

Police arrested the brother-in-law, Roger Lee McClellan, 36, and booked him on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. They gave this account of the shooting:

Moore, the victim, had been staying at the McClellen home at 2133 Ann Arbor St. Monday night he took a friend there and a dispute resulted in which McClellan claimed Moore threatened him and his wife, Barbara, 33. Moore left, saying he would return later for his things.

Tuesday night he was back, accompanied by a companion, Gale L. Williams, also of Ontario.

McClellan, fearing for his safety, armed himself with a .25-caliber automatic while Moore and Williams carried Moore's belongings to their car parked outside.

During one trip through the livingroom, words were exchanged between Moore and his brother-in-law and, according to McClellan, Moore advanced on him in a threatening manner. McClellan cocked the pistol, pointed it at Moore and pulled the trigger, hitting the victim in the lower right abdomen.

Officers reported that McClellan told them he knew the pistol was loaded, but thought it was faulty and would not fire.

Two men shot in feud

Two Azusa-area men were wounded early today when several gunshots were fired into their homes as the result of a simmering feud, sheriff's deputies reported.

Detectives later arrested an unidentified man and were questioning him about the incidents. He had not been booked by presstime.

The first shooting occurred at 1:35 a.m. at 16713 Renwick Road where several shots were fired into the house. One occupant, Miguel Lopez, was wounded in the head and was taken to Glendora Community Hospital. Deputies said it appeared that Lopez would survive, but his condition was not learned.

About 25 minutes later, several shots were fired into the house at 18469 Armstead St. In that incident, Robert Flores was wounded, but not seriously enough to require medical attention.

Turns self in after escape

A Pomona man was arrested Tuesday night after he broke away from Montclair police officers who were questioning him about a report of an attempted rape last week.

Police said Gary Steven Dupont, 19, 11378 Norton Ave., was booked in the West End sheriff's jail on suspicion of attempted rape and resisting arrest.

Officers reported Dupont was brought to the Montclair police station about 6 p.m. for questioning about an alleged attempted rape of a Montclair woman last week.

After questioning, Detective Terry Belland placed the man under arrest and started to walk him from the station.

But the suspect suddenly ran, dashing out the back door, ran through the police parking lot, jumped over a fence and disappeared, said officers.

Belland and other officers chased the suspect. Belland jumped over the wall and landed on the ground, injuring his ankle during the chase.

Officers searched the entire area surrounding the police station until 8:30 p.m. when the suspect walked into the lobby of the police station and turned himself in.

Pair nabbed in purse snatch

Two Ontario men were arrested by police a short time after the attempted theft of a woman's purse in the 1800 block of S. Euclid Avenue Tuesday morning.

Carlos Leal Silva, 51, and William J. Banks, 32, both of the Beverly Hotel, 100 S. Euclid Ave., were arrested for investigation of strong armed robbery in the 100 block of W. Transit Street .

Police said two men approached the woman just as she was leaving a bank about noon. One man grabbed the woman's purse, but she hung on, struggling with the man.

Finally the two men fled, jumping into an older model car. The license number was noted by a witness to the attempted purse snatch and given to officers.

Less than an hour later the suspects were arrested.

Motorist robs gas station

A man with a full beard and armed with a revolver robbed the Strasser Shell service station at 1903 W. Holt Ave., Pomona, late Tuesday afternoon.

The victim told police that when he approached a car at the gas pump, the driver pointed the weapon at him and demanded money. After obtaining it, the driver sped away.

The robber was described as black, about 25, with a full beard, mustache and wearing a knit cap, denim jacket and blue jeans.

Plant shop robbed

The owner of a decorative plant shop in Pomona was robbed Tuesday afternoon by a man concealing a hunting knife in the sleeve of his shirt.

The woman, 31, owner of the Plant Shop at 333 W. Holt Ave., told police the man entered at 4 o'clock, said he wanted to buy a plant and then demanded her money.

He was described as Latin in his early 20s, 5 feet 11 weighing 185 pounds. He wore a knit cap, blue plaid shirt and dark trousers.

Shots fired at 4 youths

Four Ontario youths driving a car in the 1200 block of S. Euclid Avenue Tuesday night were fired on by three youths in another car who passed by.

Police said no one was injured in the incident, although several shots were fired from what is believed to be a shotgun.

The victims were unable to give good descriptions of the shooters or the vehicle, police said.

Claudine won't appeal

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Claudine Longet, unwilling to face the ordeal of a new trial, has decided to go to jail for 30 days rather than appeal her negligent homicide conviction in the death of her lover.

Attorney Charles Weedman said late Tuesday night, "A decision has been reached not to appeal and not to seek a new trial."

He gave no reason for the change in earlier announced plans for an appeal. But he said Miss Longet made "the ultimate decision" not to pursue a new round of legal battles.

resident who is so self-abusive that he may pulverize his head by hitting himself up to 10,000 times a day if he is not interrupted."

Another charge made is that hospital staff members are allowed to throw water in the faces of residents.

Harrison said that actually small streams of water are ejected from plastic squeeze bottles, again to stop aggressive behavior.

"We consider some of the methods used to be the least restrictive and least harmful types of therapy for some residents.

"The alternatives are isolation, restraints, drug therapy or simply not treating the resident at all and thus permitting him to injure himself or others," said Harrison.

He added that all treatments are approved by the parents of residents and are under the constant scrutiny of advisory boards comprised of professionals in the field plus representatives of the clergy, parents and outside advisers.

Pacific State Hospital now has on its staff a special investigator who monitors all treatment programs and investigates any charges of abuse, Harrison added.

Acting clinical director Sheldon J. Brown said the shock jacket described to the supervisors is not used at Pacific State Hospital any more.

Brown added that the so-called cattle prod and other treatments were used "only as a last resort."

"We have in our population 13 residents who have extreme forms of behavior that are life-threatening," Brown said. "They abuse themselves and endanger others."

Harrison said all treatments used at the hospital have been approved by the Human Rights Committee.

The inspection team consisted of both state and county health facility surveyors, Witherill said. The inspection was the first in a series planned at state hospitals.

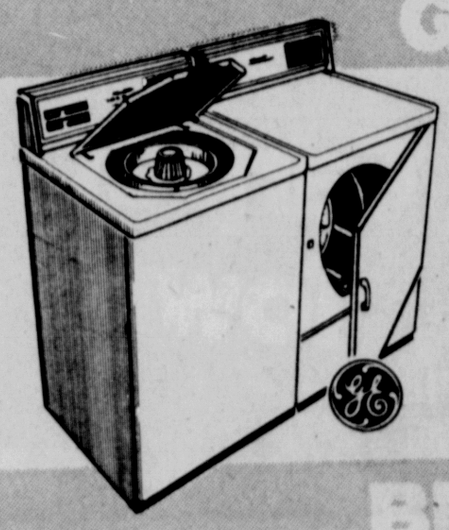

Suit challenges Carter's pardon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group including Medal of Honor winners and former prisoners of war filed suit in federal court today challenging the legality of President Carter's pardon for draft evaders.

Obituaries

Clarence Parker

Dr. Clarence R. Parker of Leisure World, Seal Beach, died Monday in a Long Beach convalescent hospital.

He was born June 2, 1886 in Orange, and moved to Pomona with his parents when less than a year old. Mr. Parker was a civil engineer in Turlock for some time, then decided to become a teacher. He first taught in Fullerton and later in high school in Sacramento where he was also a football coach.

When 40 years old, he entered the USC School of Dentistry which he completed in three years and was valedictorian. He entered the practice of dentistry in 1930 in Los Angeles where he continued until his retirement in 1952.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. William C. Woodworth of Long Beach.

Services will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. in Pomona Mausoleum. The Rev. David Edwards, pastor of the Trinity United Methodist Church, Pomona will officiate. Todd Memorial Chapel Pomona is in charge of arrangements.

Lisabeth Romspert

Mrs. Lisabeth B. Romspert of 747 E. Franklin Ave., Pomona, died Sunday evening in Elsinore as the result of an automobile accident.

Mrs. Romspert was born July 20, 1924 in Pomona, and had lived most of her life here. She was a math resource teacher at Lexington Elementary School. She was a member of the Philadelphia Street United Methodist Church, the Associated Pomona Teachers, the California Teachers Association, the YMCA board of directors, the A.W.A.R.E. board of directors, and the certificated Employes Council. She was also on the CEC negotiating committee. Mrs. Romspert had been active in youth groups such as the Cub Scouts and Camp Fire Girls.

She is survived by two sons, Alan P. of Fullerton and David G. of Nicaragua; a daughter, Miss Sara L. Romspert; her mother, Mrs. Ruth Barnes, both of Pomona; and a sister, Mrs. Janet Pevehouse of Pico Rivera.

Services will be held Thursday at 4 p.m. in Todd Memorial Chapel Pomona. The Rev. Robert Howard of the United Methodist Church, Bellflower, will officiate. Speaking will be Del Pfeifer and Judd Ellson. Services will conclude in the chapel.

Friends may make memorial contributions to the scholarship fund of Associated Pomona Teachers, 637 N. Park Ave., Suite A, Pomona 91768.

Gerlinde Meyer

Mrs. Gerlinde Meyer of 22905 Dry Creek Road, Diamond Bar, died Monday at her home following a long illness.

Mrs. Meyer was born Sept. 6, 1905 in Germany. She had lived in the United States for over 50 years, residing for the last 14 years in Diamond Bar.

She is survived by a son, Andrew, of Diamond Bar; a daughter, Mrs. Ingrid Pintard of Lenexa, Kan.; and two grandchildren.

Private services were held at Blackman-Pollock Mortuary in Pomona.

Virginia Holden

Mrs. Virginia Holden of 13103 McKinley Ave., Chino died Tuesday at Pomona Valley Community Hospital in Pomona following a long illness.

Mrs. Holden was born July 4, 1923 in Pasadena. She moved to Chino 11 years ago from Baldwin Park. She was a homemaker. She was a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist in Pomona.

She is survived by her husband, Burton C.; a daughter, Mrs. Sharon Robinson of San Diego; a son, Mark, of Ora Grande; a sister, Mrs. Polly Butler of Orinda; three brothers, Charles Portwood of Santa Barbara, Owen Portwood of Ora Grande, and Milford Portwood of San Clemente; and one grandchild.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. at the Griffith Mortuary Chapel in Chino. Interment will be made at Lodi Memorial Park in Lodi.

Friends may call tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Griffith Mortuary Chapel.

Memorial contributions may be made to the San Bernardino Chapter of the Cancer Society.

Eunice Maxwell

Mrs. Eunice Z. Maxwell of 1177 W. Eighth St., Pomona, died Tuesday in Pomona Valley Community Hospital.

Mrs. Maxwell was born Dec. 9, 1911 in Selby, S.D., and had lived in Long Beach and Rosemead prior to moving to Pomona in 1930.

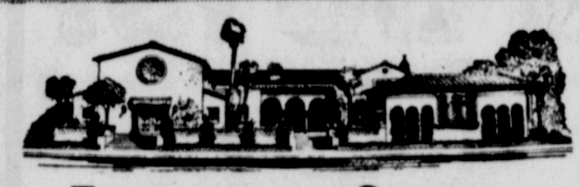

She is survived by two sons, Donald R. of Tolleson, Ariz., and Gerald L. of La Verne; a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Walker of San Gabriel; a brother Eldred J. Burr of Covina; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services were scheduled today at 2:30 p.m. in La Verne Cemetery. The Rev. George Singleterry, pastor of the Bonita Advent Christian Church, La Verne, was to officiate. Todd Memorial Chapel Pomona was in charge of arrangements.

Friends may make memorial contributions to the Arthritis Foundation, 4311 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles 90010.

Sacramento summaries

By The Associated Press
A Summary of Major Action
Tuesday, Feb. 1, 1977

THE GOVERNOR

Met with representatives of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Turned thermostats in his offices down to 65 degrees.

Announced that major portion of federal funds allocated to California under Public Works Employment Act of 1976 will go to three programs which will create about 5,000 jobs.

THE ASSEMBLY
Bills Introduced

Handicapped — Would require that elements of California Recreational Trails System include trails and areas suitable for use by physically handicapped persons; AB 366; Chappie, R-Roseville.

Marijuana — Would make planting or cultivating six or fewer marijuana plants a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not more than $100 instead of a felony; AB 367; Brown, D-San Francisco.

Rates — Would require municipal utility districts to establish low, lifeline rates for customers who use less than a certain amount of natural gas and electricity; AB 368; Goggin, D-San Bernardino.

Voting — Would provide that if a person shall lose the right to vote if he or she is found to be mentally incompetent as prescribed; AB 372; Antonovich, R-Glendale.

Health — Would create state departments of health care services, public health and mental hygiene and transfer functions, employes, funds and property of the Department of Health to those departments and the Department of Benefit Payments; AB 375; Lanterman, R-La Canada.

Water — Would appropriate $300,000 to Department of Water Resources for a pilot water conservation study consisting of the purchase, distribution and installation of low-flow showerheads, faucets and toilet dams; AB 380; Gualco, D-Sacramento.

Attorneys—Would establish qualifications for attorneys in capital cases; AB 363; Nestande, R-Orange.

Regulations — Would set up a system under which state regulations would be reviewed by legislative committees to insure that regulations do not exceed an agency's authority; AB 365; Chimbole, D-Palmdale.

Resolution Introduced

Water — Would ask all local government agencies to evaluate their water needs and to institute all appropriate water conservation methods; ACR 16; Gualco.

THE SENATE
Constitutional Amendment Introduced

Interest — Would limit rate of interest upon a judgment rendered in any state court to three per cent per year plus the rate prevailing on the 25th day of the month before the date of entry of the judgment; SCA 18; Rains, D-Ventura.

Bills Introduced

Containers — Would require that any device used to connect beverage containers offered for retail sale in California be of material certified as biodegradable by Solid Waste Management Board; SB 219; Rains.

Appointments — Would give the Senate president pro tem or Assembly speaker, on an alternate basis, power to make a governor's appointments if the governor failed to fill a vacancy within six months; SB 216; Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek.

Air Pollution — Would requires an affirmative vote of at least three members for the Air Resources Board to adopt standards, rules or regulations and would set up a system under which the Senate Rules Committee would fill an ARB vacancy within 30 days if the governor did not fill the post within that time; SB 217; Nejedly.

Ex-cons — Would make ex-convicts eligible to collect up to 26 weeks of unemployment benefits based on work performed as a prison inmate; SB 224; Behr, R-Tiburon.

Resolutions Introduced

Industry — Would request the Air Resources Board to review state implementation plan under federal Clean Air Act to determine whether community tradeoffs should be authorized in preconstruction review of new or modified stationary sources; SCR 17; Nejedly.

Property Taxes — Would create a Joint Committee on School Finance Reform and Property Tax Reform; SCR 18; Alquist, D-San Jose.

Pomona woman bitten by cat seeks information

A Pomona woman, bitten Saturday by a sick stray cat, will have to have the rabies vaccine series unless the animal is found by next Monday.

The victim, Sally Clark, 1231 W. Sixth St., said the animal is male with short, black hair.

"The animal is dangerous," she warned. "It attacked me without reason. Do not try to handle it."

The attack occurred in front of the woman's home, she said.

Anyone with information on the sick stray is asked to call Mrs. Clark at 629-5462, her home, or 213 384-1661, her work, or contact her family at 628-4698.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Education of the Pomona Unified School District will receive bids for furnishing all labor and materials for the Reroofing of all roofs, including covered walkways, except the Cafeteria Building, at Palomares Jr. High School, 2211 North Orange Grove Avenue, Pomona, CA., with all the necessary allied work.

Each bid shall be in accordance with the specifications and other contract documents and/or drawings now on file at the Business Office of said Board, in the Purchasing Department, Education Center, 800 South Garey Avenue, Pomona, CA 91766, where prospective bidders may secure copies. To insure common understanding of the work to be done, the areas of work MUST be inspected by bidders with a District representative.

Pursuant to the provisions of Articles 1 and 2 of Chapter 1, Part 7, Division II, of the Labor Code of the State of California, not less than the general prevailing rate of per diem wages, and not less than the general prevailing rate of per diem wages for legal holidays and overtime work, for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the work contemplated under this Agreement, as ascertained by and set forth in the schedule of such wages specifically hereinafter set forth and adopted by the Board of Education of the City of Pomona, shall be paid to all workmen employed on said work by the contractor or by any subcontractor doing or contracting to do any part of said work, which schedule of wages is as follows:

FOREMEN:

All foremen not herein separately classified, shall be paid not less than the rates agreed upon in the Southern California Master Labor Agreement for the Construction Industry.

APPRENTICES:

May be employed in conformity with Section 1777.5 of the California Labor Code, and shall be paid the customary proportion of the journeyman rate.

CLASSIFICATION:	RATE PER HOUR
Foreman	12.34
Sub-Foreman	11.84
Journeyman	11.59

(Health & Welfare - .82) (Pension - .90) (Annuity Fund - .18)
(Vacation - 1.00 included in wage rate)
(Dues Check-off - .20 included in wage rate)

The rates of per diem wages for each of the various classifications of work shall be herein before set forth prevailing rates of hourly wages multiplied by eight (8). Eight (8) hours shall constitute a day's work; it being understood that in the event that workmen are employed less than eight (8) hours per day, the per diem wages shall be deemed to be that fraction of the per diem wages herein established that the number of hours of employment bears to eight (8) hours.

WORKING RULES

1. Where a single shift is worked, eight (8) consecutive hours shall constitute a day's work at straight time for all workers.
2. Forty (40) hours between Monday 7:00 A.M. and Friday 5:00 P.M. shall constitute a week's work at straight time.
3. All work performed in excess of eight (8) hours per day or forty (40) hours per week or on holidays shall be paid for at the overtime rate of the craft involved.
4. Holidays herein referred to shall be deemed to be New Year's Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving Day, and Christmas. If any of the above holidays fall on Sunday, the Monday following shall be considered a legal holiday.

Each bid must be accompanied by a Bidder's Bond (issued by a Surety Company accredited by the Board of Education) for not less than five per cent (5%) of the amount of the bid, made payable to the order of the POMONA UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT, 800 South Garey Avenue, Pomona, CA 91766, on or before 11:00 A.M., February 18, 1977, at which time and place the bids will be opened.(Government Code No. 53068 prohibits accepting bids after the designated time.) Bid must be marked to indicate name of bid and opening date. The District will recognize Sections 4331 and 4332 Government Code.

The above mentioned Bidder's Bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract, if awarded the work, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into a contract after being requested to do so by the Board of Education.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish Labor and Material Bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, and Faithful Performance Bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured by a Surety Company, or Surety Companies, satisfactory to the Board of Education.

The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and/or waive any informality in the bid. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of ten days after the date set for the opening thereof.

By the order of the Board of Education of the Pomona Unified School District.

Nightclub dancer pleads guilty

4th man held in rancher kidnaping

A man wanted since October in connection with the robbery, kidnaping and false imprisonment of a Chino rancher and several hostages surrendered himself to West End Sheriff's deputies at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Booked into West End jail and being held in lieu of $100,000 bail is Egnacio Valdez Moreno, 35, 8475 Merrill St., Chino.

Moreno is the fourth suspect arrested in the Oct. 18 incident at California Farms, 12652 Sultana Ave., Chino, owned by Ben Ingber.

Fontana nightclub dancer Glenna Gibson, 21, has pleaded guilty to kidnaping and robbery charges in West Valley Superior Court. She is awaiting sentencing.

After less than three hours deliberation, the Superior Court jury found Gutherie Danowsky, 21, Fontana, guilty of 12 felony counts. He is to return Feb. 9 for sentencing.

Danny Ray Lewis, 25, Rialto, sought by West End law enforcement officials since October, was arrested on a felony warrant issued by the district attorney's office after he had been arrested on other charges by San Jose police. He is being held in West End jail awaiting trial on felony charges of robbery, kidnaping and extortion.

Moreno faces these same charges, deputies said.

The suspects are charged with holding three persons — one of the men is Miss Gibson's father — hostages at California Farms after robbing Ingber and kidnaping him in an attempt to have him withdraw $5,000 from a Chino bank in return for the release of the hostages.

Ingber was able to tip off a teller and police were alerted.

Magic show

The Magical Land of Oz, an enchanting magic show featuring characters from the popular children's fairytale, will be presented as a free attraction for six days during the 62nd National Orange Show in San Bernardino March 17-27.

The scarecrow, tin woodsman, talking birds and the beautiful Emerald City will come to life daily from Friday, March 18, through Thursday, March 24. It will go on at 2, 4, and 6 p.m. on weekdays and at noon, 2, 4, and 6 on Saturday and Sunday.

The 20-minute show combines live performers, puppets, animated characters and the art of illusion.

Starring in the presentation is a magician who tries his hand at the Wizard's own tricks.

Roots most-watched television show in history

NEW YORK (UPI) — The final episode of "Roots" has replaced the first half of "Gone With The Wind" as the most watched television program of all time, according to statistics released Tuesday by the A.C. Nielsen Co.

The triumph of a black family from its roots in Africa through slavery to freedom not only has pushed the "Gone With The Wind" version of the Civil War out of first place, but it also has kicked all but this year's Superbowl game out of the all-time top ten most watched television shows.

The two-hour "Roots" chapter broadcast by ABC Jan. 30, 9-11 p.m., Eastern time, was the episode that downgraded "GWTW" Part I to second place, and it also was the most watched show on network television for a week ending Jan. 30, according to the Nielsen ratings.

It was followed in the Nielsen's by the six other episodes in the televised version of Alex Haley's best-seller that were broadcast during the week.

The opening episode of "Roots" had captured first place the preceding week.

ABC Research estimated that 130 million persons watched all or part of "Roots" during its 8-part, 12 hours of broadcast time. That means that 85 per cent of all homes owning television sets tuned in to at least part of the program.

The closing chapter of the "Roots" story received a 56.1 rating and a 71 per cent share of the audience for a total of 36,380,000 homes tuned in. That put it ahead of "Gone With The Wind" by 2.4 million homes.

In the list of most-watched shows of all time, "Roots" for Jan. 30 now ranks first, followed by "Gone With The Wind," Part I. "GWTW" Part II holds third place, while "Roots" for Jan. 28, 27 and 25 are in fourth through sixth place. Superbowl 11 ranks seventh, followed by "Roots" for Jan. 24, 26 and 29 in eighth through tenth place. "Roots" for Jan. 23 ranks 13th.

The enormous audience for "Roots" also gave ABC the highest rating and share of audience for the week ever recorded by a network — a 35.5 rating and a 52.1 per cent share of the audience. That compares with a 16.2 rating and a 23.9 share for CBS and a 13.2 rating and 19.4 share for NBC.

The innovative programming, in putting "Roots" on the air on eight consecutive nights, along with the power of the story and excellent performances in the major roles, combined to give "Roots" its vast viewing public.

The ABC official who telephoned Haley in California to tell him the good news said the author responded, "Hey, baby, that's great. Wow!"

Police slay young suspect

EL MONTE (AP) — A 17-year-old youth was killed by a police shotgun blast as he walked out of a small store that he was suspected of robbing, officers said.

Police said Alfred Alfonso Garcia was shot early Monday when he ignored an order to halt, dropped some stolen beer and liquor and moved as if he were drawing a gun.

Check out your tax preparer

By Ray De Crane

Simplification does not come easily.

This is particularly true when the attempt to make something simple conflicts head-on with long-established habits.

Internal Revenue Service is learning this the hard way these days.

In its printed instructions for the new federal income tax forms this year, IRS has but one Tax Table. Last year there were 12. That sounds like progress. But it is creating untold confusion.

The No. 1 complaint at every Internal Revenue office this year is the cry of outrage at "the unbelievably high tax I have to pay."

Generally the protestors are complaining about owing $500 or more in taxes on about the same amount of income as a year ago.

Patient questioning by the IRS people staffing the telephones pinpoints the problem at the new Tax Table. "But I did it just the way I did for several years," is the general retort.

And that is why they are in trouble. This year you must do it differently.

The old tables were based on adjusted gross income. The new table is geared to taxable income. There is a vast difference in the dollars involved, and two steps must be taken in getting from gross to taxable income.

First the deductions — either itemized or percentage standard — must be taken from gross. Then the personal exemptions — $750 for each person listed on the return — must next be subtracted.

What remains is taxable income. And NOW is the time to refer to that Tax Table.

The IRS computer should correct the error and return the extra payment, but why go out and borrow the money to pay that extra tax when you don't have to?

IRS also points out that spending a little time reading instructions could also help.

Self-discipline secret of success—hamburger giant

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The secret of success is self-discipline rather than intelligence, education, talent or luck, says the high school dropout who owns the McDonald hamburger chain.

"I am totally convinced that the essential difference between one man and the next, one of whom becomes a man of achievement and distinction while the other remains one of the crowd, is the former's greater capacity to manage himself," is the view of Ray Kroc, 74.

Kroc appeared before the San Diego Chamber of Commerce for a luncheon talk recently and told it to stop procrastinating on merchandising the city.

"You've got to get to the point where you consolidate the plan and get started doing," said Kroc, whose other endeavors include bailing out shaky sports franchises. He owns the San Diego Chargers football team and the San Diego Mariners hockey franchise.

Bradley may debate foes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Tom Bradley's campaign manager says Bradley is ready to consider debating challengers to his re-election bid.

David Mixner said Monday that Bradley is "not afraid" to meet the other candidates, including state Sen. Alan Robbins. But Mixner said Bradley wants to include lesser known candidates, including tax protester Howard Jarvis, in any debate.

HARRIET HARRISON

New officers installed by flags committee

Mrs. Harriet Harrison was installed recently as president of the Pomona Avenue of Flags Committee for 1977.

The committee was formed in 1974 to raise funds for the purchase of American flags, which are flown on city streets. To date, 219 flags have been purchased through donations to the organization.

Flags are displayed on holidays during the year, with the Greater Pomona Kiwanis Club providing the labor to place the flags on light standards.

Other officers installed at the ceremony at Mrs. Harrison's home are Ernestine Pitts, vice president; Christine Black, recording secretary, and Margaret Shagena, treasurer.

Claremont intersection

13 apply for crossing guard

Thirteen persons have applied for the newly-created job of crossing guard to help children safely across Mountain Avenue and Base Line Road in Claremont, reported Warren Shafer, assistant to the city manager.

Shafer said the four finalists will be interviewed Thursday, but he could not say when the paid guard would take over from the volunteer guards who have been manning the busy intersection since the traffic on Base Line Road has become so brisk.

Shafer said the crossing guard agreement with Los Angeles County goes into effect March 1. The county will pay one-half of the cost of the guard or about $900 a year.

Crossing guards are paid $2.50 an hour for working four hours a day, Monday through Friday during the school year.

The city had great difficulty several years ago in obtaining crossing guards at College Avenue and Arrow Highway for Oakmont Elementary School students.

High cost of owning

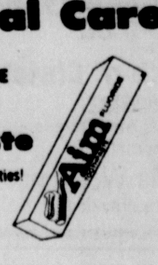

Over the past five years, families that rent have fared better than those who own their homes, The Conference Board observes. Landlords increased rentals by about 26 per cent during this period, but home-owner costs rose by some 44 per cent.

Campus security discussed

Uniformed police guards recommended in Pomona

By DAN NIEBRUGGE
PB Staff Writer

Campus violence, lack of discipline and need for additional security at the public schools were subjects discussed for 90 minutes at the Pomona school board Tuesday.

Trustee Eugene Whitlock climaxed the discussion by proposing that the district spend some $60,000 through the remainder of this school year to place uniformed police guards at Ganesha, Garey, Pomona and Park Avenue high schools and at each of the district's junior high schools.

Board members generally approved Whitlock's plan although they did request something in writing.

The board voted to consider Whitlock's plan at a special meeting next Tuesday called to discuss discipline problems with the 31 principals in the district.

Whitlock's proposal came only one day after the Pomona City Council had authorized the expenditure of $360,000 to develop a special 10-man strike force to deal with violent crime in Pomona and also to create a 20-man police reserve unit.

Whitlock specifically requested off-duty local law enforcement personnel be used at the schools as opposed to security guards because, he said, "these are the people who live in our community and are responsible to it and knowledgable about it."

Under Whitlock's plan, the officers would be stationed at the schools Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

He suggested that the officers be hired from the ranks of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, the California Highway Patrol and the Pomona Police Department to deal with problems of school security and violence for the remainder of this school year.

In May, he said, a report would be issued detailing whether the additional officers had made Pomona's public school campuses more secure.

"We are looking at a situation now where some children are afraid to go to school," said Whitlock. "Sometimes I think you have to take a shotgun approach to these things. Sometimes I think we talk things to death."

"I agree in concept with the idea, but I would like to see us cost this thing out," said trustee Don Donnelly.

Five persons concerned with various aspects of violence and lawbreaking at the schools addressed the board during the meeting.

Discussions centered around violence at the Washington Elementary School and Ganesha High School.

Parents from the Washington's parent committee on violence asked that parents be given a greater role in the life of the school and asked the board for stronger measures to discourage aggressive actions on the schoolgrounds, as well as on other elementary school campuses in the district.

Parents and residents in the Ganesha area described problems at that school, ranging from loitering students to vandalism and burglaries committed in the residential area around the school during its open lunch hour.

One parent said she had gone to Ganesha Monday night to watch a girls' basketball team only to find the gym locked and about a dozen loiterers in the gym area.

The speaker, a mother of a team member, said the gym has been locked to keep trouble makers out, and that the only administrative people on hand were two coaches and a trainer.

The junior varsity game Monday was not completed because of attacks on the visiting team's bus by loiterers who broke out the bus windows with a hammer, she said.

The woman, who asked that her name be withheld, said she feared having her daughter practice with the team late at the school.

She said she had been told that security could not be provided for players on the team practicing late in the evening.

Acting Director of Secondary Education Ken Noonan told the board the basketball game had been an unscheduled event and that the coaches in question had not gone through proper channels.

He said that regularly scheduled athletic games would be given sufficient security and that this type of mixup would not happen again.

The board directed Supt. Charles C. Carpenter to send a letter to the visiting school apologizing for damage done to the bus and expressing the board's concern over the problem.

Another Ganesha area resident complained for the second time of problems being caused by Ganesha students during their open campus lunch hour. She said mail boxes were broken into and homes burglarized. She said the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, the Pomona Police Department and the Post Office all had been notified of the problem.

Area program helps find jobs for the jobless

By BOB SWETNAM
PB Staff Writer

Steve Ascencio is out looking for a job — not a job for himself, but for someone else.

Three, sometimes four days a week he's out on the streets beating the pavement talking to employers in an effort to find jobs for the unemployed.

According to the most recent statistics from the U. S. Department of Labor, there are over eight million unemployed workers in the United States. Of these, a large percentage are unskilled workers from disadvantaged backgrounds. It is towards these workers Steve Ascencio is directing his energies.

The agency is an affiliate of the Mexican-American Urban Coalition, a Los Angeles based group involved in many phases of social service, counseling and job development.

The name, however, is a misnomer. Although the agency tries to serve the Mexican-American community in both San Dimas and La Verne, its outlook is not exclusively confined to that area.

"I think our name connotes the stereotype that we are here for the Mexican-American," said Ascensio. "Really the program is for anyone who needs it. We have a number of clients who are not Spanish surnamed and people should know we are here for everyone."

Jobs are Ascencio's specialty.

"Without jobs, many of the people we serve will never be able to break out of the cycle of poverty," he said.

PICS maintains an extensive file of over 200 employers in the Pomona Valley — and every day is adding more— that might have a job to offer. When an opening does occur, PICS tries to match the job with one of its many underemployed clients.

The job may range from part-time work for a youth to a full-time professional position.

"One of the problems in placing many of our clients is that they may lack necessary job skills or education," he points out. "One of the things we at PICS try to do is bring up the clients skill and educational level. We offer a full range of counseling services in the area of education and job training."

PICS participates in several job programs funded by the federal government, and one of the most successful has been the OJT (On the Job Training) program.

"Under OJT a client is trained in a career and is paid while he is going to school to learn the necessary skills," Ascencio explained. "The program allows disadvantaged people the chance to get training in dental and medical assistance and other areas that they may otherwise never have the opportunity to do."

He believes the program has been successful in placing a number of qualified persons in good paying jobs.

Educationally, the agency counsels students on ways of getting an education. It might include going back to high school, or taking the state high school equivalency exam.

"We don't look for instant results," Steve explained. "We sometimes spend a lot of time to find or place or train a client for a job."

For all of the efforts the people at PICS spend, however, the payoffs are big. Ascencio, who will be leaving the agency soon, reveals that during the three years of the job program's existence "many people have been placed."

The hope of the rest of the staff is that in his absence needy persons will continue to be helped to find a job that many so desperately need.

L.A. supervisors request animal control district

By BOB NAGEY
PB Staff Writer

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors wants to set up a countywide animal control district which eventually may replace, among other local agencies, the Humane Society of Pomona Valley.

The supervisors unanimously asked the state legislature Tuesday to pass a law that would permit the establishment of such a district subsidized by a county tax levy.

If approved, the district will become operative by January, 1979.

Betty Smith, director of the county's department of animal control which now provides services to all of the unincorporated areas as well as 26 contract cities, said the district would be an alternative to what services now exist.

She said all cities would be given three possible choices: To keep the services they now have; to contract for man hours with the county, or to join the district.

"We think we can give the cities as well as the unincorporated areas just what they want in animal control and humane services," she declared. "We will offer basic animal control, but beyond that we will also be prepared to provide more money for pounds, adoptions, training, cruelty prevention and public education."

Mrs. Smith said the district would be able to do this cheaper than many of the present smaller organizations.

But Bruce Richards, executive director of the 28-year-old local humane society which provides services to Pomona, Claremont, La Verne and San Dimas, challenged those statements. He said animal control is a "personal service that cannot be conducted efficiently from headquarters 30 miles away from the scene."

He said he felt confident that when the two services are laid out side by side, the local cities will stay with the Pomona Valley Society.

"The local humane society was started in the first place," he explained, "because the county could not serve the area adequately."

He claimed the City of Walnut, which now has the county service, has asked the local society for permission to join, and that his board of directors is considering that request.

And he revealed that Mrs. Smith has asked his organization to add the unincorporated area around Mt. Baldy and Claremont to his service area, and that this is also being considered.

"They have one humane officer per 50,000 population, and they are finding it difficult to provide service to the outlying areas," he explained. "We have one officer per 30,000 persons."

Ontario council takes no action on monitoring of development

By MAE TATE
PB Staff Writer

The Ontario City Council refused Tuesday to take action on a request from the county to participate in a monitoring system for West End development and establish short and long-term solutions to problems of sewer disposal strained by excessive residential development.

The council postponed any discussion or action following a report from San Bernardino County Planning Director Ken Topping and planner Diane Guzman. Mayor Paul Treadway indicated the council will wait until it receives additional comments and reports from the city staff.

Topping, who had previously made a similar presentation before the Montclair City Council, toned down his comments to the Ontario City Council. Ontario is one of the major cities of increasing residential growth in the West End.

Two weeks ago the planner asked Montclair officials to extend into their city limits a county moratorium on residential tracts. He was greeted with some ire by councilmen who reminded him that the escalated growth problem was not caused by Montclair, but rather by spiraling growth and tract approvals in Chino, Ontario and Upland. Montclair councilmen also pointed out that the problems of sewer disposal were acknowledged several years ago by the Montclair council which established a moratorium for itself that lasted three years.

Topping alluded to the presentation before Montclair, saying the City Council there had "misunderstood" what he was saying. However, he did not ask the Ontario City Council to declare a moratorium on residential development.

Topping explained that the county Board of Supervisors had declared a 90-day moratorium in the tri-communities of Alta Loma, Cucamonga and Etiwanda because of public service problems, particularly water and sewers. He said there is a "strong possibility that development is currently outstripping the presence of public services."

The 7,600 residential lots approved in the tri-communities represent 85 per cent of such applications in the unincorporated areas throughout the county. There has been a two-year delay on the federal grant approval for expansion of sewer plant one of the Chino Basin Municipal Water District, located in south Ontario and serving the West End. That grant would expand the plant to handle an additional eight million gallons per day above the current maximum of 16 million gallons. The plant is almost at full capacity now, handling approximately 15.5 million gallons per day, according to Mrs. Guzman.

Arroyo hosts YTS inmates

Three inmates from the Youth Training School near Chino will present a program on how small crimes can lead to bigger crimes when they speak to students at Arroyo Elementary School in Pomona on Thursday at 9 a.m.

The program will be held in the school auditorium. The inmates, who call themselves "Young Adults Against Crime," range in ages from 19 to 22. They will relate personal experiences of crimes, which include assault with a deadly weapon, burglary and narcotics.

The program is open to the public. The school is located at 1605 Arroyo Ave.

Brown usurps legislature

A legislative showdown on the issue of who is to determine proper compensation for state workers appears in the making. The employes and Gov. Jerry Brown are at loggerheads in the matter and the State Employes Association is gearing up for all out battle.

With the employes it boils down to the pay increases being offered by the governor in the way of cost of living adjustments. Obviously if they got what they wanted they wouldn't be quarreling over the methods used. But because they consider the governor's proposals "outrageous, disgraceful, and unacceptable" they are attacking the negotiation systems adopted by the governor as "arbitrary, unilateral and paternalistic."

Since both custom and the law provide that pay will be determined by the legislature with the aid of recommendations by the State Personnel Board, their contention that the governor is usurping the powers of the legislature is finding support among the lawmakers.

Assembly Ways and Means vice chairman Frank Lanterman, for example, sees the governor's "meet and confer" negotiations as "a direct preemption of legislative authority." Two years ago, Lanterman reminds, "the legislature made it very clear that we did not favor collective bargaining for state employes in any form."

But the state employes, who had been promised bargaining by Brown during his campaign for governor and thus gave him heavy financial support, see Brown's "meet and confer" system as "hokum which doesn't even approach being negotiations."

"The governor," said the employes state president William A. Craib, "wants to cut his own deal and then ask the Assembly and Senate to rubber stamp any program he offers."

In practice during the two previous years the governor has gone beyond seeking legislative approval of his proposals for employe pay. He has vetoed any additional benefits over his proposals which the legislature has adopted. To that degree, at least, his methods have been precisely as charged by the employes, "arbitrary and unilateral." And Craib is justified in describing conferences where the governor's representatives sit with all the aces as "hokum."

Under such circumstances the "meet and confer" becomes a cruel distortion of a bargaining conference since the only agreement to be reached has been predetermined by the governor. Even the legislature's analyst, A. Alan Post, has taken sharp issue with his current proposals pointing out the offered increases "constitute for the second year in a row a reduction in real income for most state employes." He also warned that failure to increase state contributions to the retirement system of merit pay increases would be considered another pay reduction.

Whether state employes are being paid prevailing wages for comparable work, whether the method of making such comparisons is accurate, and whether the salary step plan are all proper are not matters for the governor to decide on his own. They are the result of policies adopted by the legislature and remain for that body to change.

While the governor's stinginess in these matters may bring him approbations from the taxpayers the violation of the principles involved in his unilateral actions would become glaringly apparent if he were going the other direction and proposing, without legislative authority, excessive pay increases. The issue of usurpation of legislative authority seems crystal clear.

School policy is discriminatory

Dear Editor:

I was greatly disappointed after reading your article last week concerning the "fair employment policy" being recommended in the Pomona Unified School District. I see nothing "fair" about the proposed policy.

One goal of many teachers in this district has been to teach their students that all people are to be treated equally, and that they should respect the American ideal that all should have an equal opportunity "without regard to race, creed, or national origin."

I ask the educators proposing this new plan how they recommend we explain to the children of Pomona why the school district is planning to hire people on the basis of the color of their skin. Is this not the very evil — discrimination — that so many have fought so hard to destroy? The civil rights marches of the 60s aimed at abolition of hiring practices that separate one applicant from another based on race. Does our school district intend to overthrow all this by initiating an even more discriminatory practice?

Pomona's racial composition does not reflect a mixture of 30 per cent white, 30 per cent black, 30 per cent Chicano, and 10 per cent "other" races. Such a mixture, if achieved in the school district's employ via the "quota" plan, would not reflect the balance of our community. It would reflect only an artificial "one third each" racial mixture dictated by the school board, and nothing else. Accordingly, why are Orientals and American Indians not given an equal share, but relegated to part of the polyglot 10 per cent labeled "other" races? Is this indeed fair hiring? And would not a Japanese or Chinese educator's chances of being hired in Pomona district be severely lessened by such a policy? Of course! How, then, do we explain to youngsters in Pomona why a Japanese man's chances of employment in the Pomona Unified School District are less than one in 10 — solely because he is Japanese, and not Caucasian, Black or Chicano?

I propose a hiring policy based on selecting the most qualified applicant for the job, race notwithstanding. A man's (or woman's) race should not be an issue in hiring practices. I believe that is what the true meaning of "equal opportunity" is.

Mark Twain once said, "I have no race prejudices, and I think I have no color prejudices nor creed prejudices . . . all I care to know is that a man is a human being — that is enough for me." I hope that the school board can see the truth in this, and establish a system seeking the most qualified applicant, not a quota system favoring one race or color over another.

Nixon's tax audit blocked

WASHINGTON — The story can now be told how the White House, even after the Watergate coverup had been fully exposed, continued to use Watergate tactics in an attempt to block a 1974 audit of Richard Nixon's tax returns.

Despite the White House intervention, the Internal Revenue Service went ahead with the audit. But the charges against Nixon were strangely limited to simple negligence. A fraud penalty not only would have forced him out of office months earlier but would have cost him an extra $148,080.97 in back taxes.

Outgoing Internal Revenue Commissioner Donald Alexander acknowledged that the White House pressured him in 1974 to quash the Nixon tax audit. He was joined by then-Treasury Secy. George Shultz in resisting the White House pressure, Alexander told us.

We checked with Shultz, who confirmed Alexander's account. "We all wanted to do the right thing," Shultz recalled. Neither would discuss the details of the White House intervention. Alexander said only that he expected to be fired for refusing to stop the audit. Both agreed that the political pressure ended when Gerald Ford became president.

A year earlier, the Internal Revenue Service delicately audited Nixon's tax returns and found them to be in perfect order. But press exposes and a congressional investigation persuaded the IRS to conduct a second audit in 1974.

This revealed that Nixon had deeded one-third of his vice presidential papers, developed at the taxpayers' expense, back to the taxpayers. In return for this gift, he claimed a $576,000 tax deduction.

There was one hitch; the law permitting tax deductions for personal papers had expired. But White House aide Edward Morgan got around this obstacle by illegally backdating the gift.

It was a clear case of fraud, which normally would have been brought against the errant taxpayer. But Taxpayer Nixon claimed he was unaware of the backdating.

The two attorneys who prepared the fraudulent returns, Herbert Kalmbach and Frank DeMarco, swore they explained the tax figures carefully to Nixon. They spent about 30 minutes on April 10, 1970, going over the returns with him. Nixon carefully checked each page before signing the forms, they testified. For that matter, he had started out his law career as a tax attorney.

Nixon's tax documents also show that he took a personal interest in claiming every possible deduction. He contended, according to the documents, that "a public man does very little of a personal nature." Therefore, he instructed his aides to count all entertainment and gifts as "business" deductions.

But the fraud charges were brought against the unfortunate Morgan, who pleaded guilty. Nixon was merely nailed for negligence. He paid an assessment of $284,706.16 for back taxes for the years 1970 to '71 and 1971 to '72. The IRS informed him that he also owed another $148,080.97 in back taxes for 1969. But the 1969 assessment didn't really have to be paid because the statute of limitations had run out.

On April 3, 1974, Nixon solemnly promised to pay up all his back taxes, including the 1969 bill. Yet he still hasn't paid the $148,080.97. If he had been found guilty of fraud, the statute of limitations would no longer apply, and he couldn't avoid paying the full $148,080.97.

Inside sources tell us that the former president should have been charged with fraud. They suspect the White House pressure, though it failed to block the tax audit, may have led to downgrading the fraud charge. Both Alexander and Shultz insisted, however, that they resisted all White House political pressure.

They conceded that the Nixon audit was only one of many cases in which the White House tried to meddle. In 1973, for example, the White House quietly protested an IRS decision to examine political committees. There was a similar howl from the White House when the IRS decided to tax political parties.

Alexander told us that Nixon also tried to use the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms for political purposes. The bureau, once part of the IRS, became a separate entity under Nixon. The former president planned to use the new agency as a refuge for political hacks, such as the convicted Watergate burglar G. Gordon Liddy, according to Alexander.

Puerto Rico statehood

Nobody is quite certain why, as President, Ford wanted to go on record in favor of statehood for Puerto Rico.

He had to know that objective could not possibly be realized during his residual term in office.

He had appointed an advisory group on the subject in October, 1975. That group of presidential advisers advised against statehood, recommended instead "more self-government" for the island.

But Ford interrupted a skiing vacation to overrule his own advisers.

Puerto Rico was discovered by Columbus on his second voyage.

It remained Spanish until the Spanish-American War when the United States captured it.

In 1917 Congress made Puerto Rico a "territory" of the United States, made its citizens U.S. citizens.

In 1952 President Harry Truman signed a congressional resolution elevating Puerto Rico to "commonwealth status."

In 1967 Puerto Rico voted to remain a "commonwealth."

To Puerto Rico the only apparent advantage of becoming a "state," as outgoing President Ford suggested, would be that Puerto Ricans would have two senators, six congressmen and would be permitted to vote in our national elections.

An obvious disadvantage would be that Puerto Ricans would have to start paying federal taxes.

Puerto Rico's new Governor advocates statehood.

Private polls show 30 percent of Puerto Ricans prefer statehood.

For statehood to become an accomplished fact, both the Congress and the people of the island would have to vote "yes."

If Gerry Ford were a more devious man I would suspect that additional oil reserves had been discovered offshore Puerto Rico and his recommendation was a bid for those taxes.

Since he is anything but a devious man, we have to accept his own explanation: that "the people of Puerto Rico have made tremendous political, social and economic progress" — and he thinks "the United States should take the initiative in supporting statehood."

Puerto Rico's Socialist Party is altogether as Marxist as Castro. Its spokesman says that the United Nations is preparing to recognize the total independence and sovereignty of Puerto Rico, and Mr. Ford is trying to sabotage that recognition.

Puerto Rico is poor by U.S. standards. Unemployment is three times what it is stateside.

That statehood would require Puerto Ricans to start paying federal taxes is largely academic because 75 percent of the people there would be on some kind of welfare.

With statehood, immediately everyone over 72 would receive Social Security — which they do not now receive.

Poor children would receive immediate benefits in educational funds and another hundred million dollars would go to Medicaid.

Also, Puerto Rico would be eligible for revenue sharing.

The only conceivable advantage to us would be to discourage any Marxist effort to make Puerto Rico another Cuba.

Congress must ask itself how much that would be worth.

Canal Carter's first 'crisis'?

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — In the early days of his administration, President Carter appears to have grasped one painful lesson which his predecessor learned only in the heat of last year's campaign: the Panama Canal is first and foremost a domestic political challenge.

Accordingly, Carter is moving quickly and quietly to build public support for a new treaty with Panama and to defuse Congressional opposition to such a pact.

The issue is receiving "top priority" attention at both the White House and State Department, administration officials tell us.

The last thing the new president needs is a violent foreign policy crisis at the country's very doorstep — and such a blowup is almost inevitable unless a new and more equitable treaty is quickly concluded.

Carter has told Congressional leaders he hopes negotiations with Panama can be wrapped up by June. Panama's foreign minister, Aquilino Boyd, is in Washington this week to pin down the timetable and framework for completing the talks begun under Presidents Nixon and Ford.

But Carter is not devoting all his attention to diplomatic channels. He understands that a new treaty won't be worth the paper it's written on without public support and ratification by two-thirds of the U.S. Senate.

As a consequence, Carter will discuss the Panama Canal issue in a televised "fireside chat" within the next two or three weeks, according to White House officials. He will try to drain off some of the emotionalism which Ronald Reagan and other political conservatives stirred up in last year's campaign.

Even before he goes public, the president — through Secretary of State Cyrus Vance and administration allies on Capitol Hill — is seeking to head off problems in the Senate.

Last year, 37 senators — three more than the number who could block a new treaty — signed a resolution sponsored by Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., calling for continued U.S. sovereignty over the Canal Zone and insisting upon prior approval by both the House and Senate of any new agreement with Panama.

A new version of the Thurmond resolution, essentially unchanged, is now in the works, but the Carter administration is wisely maneuvering to keep the number of co-sponsors well below the dangerous 34 mark. Eight of last year's signers retired or lost their seats in November, but several new members could take their places on the Thurmond resolution. The most outspoken freshman foe of a new treaty is the irrepressible Sen. S.I. Hayakawa, R-Calif., who said during his own campaign that the Panama Canal belongs to the U.S. because "we stole it fair and square."

According to Senate sources, Vance has already privately begun contacting a number of senators who signed the Thurmond resolution last year but may be willing to reconsider their stands. He and other Carter operatives will also work on most of the 18 new senators, these sources said.

Targeted for lobbying efforts are: Sens. Herman Talmadge and Sam Nunn, both Democrats from Carter's home state of Georgia; Russell Long and Bennett Johnston, both D-La.; Jennings Randolph, D-W.Va.; Thomas McIntyre, D-N.H.; Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C.; Wendell Ford, D-Ky; Pete Domenici, R-N.M.; Dewey Bartlett, R-Okla.; Edward Zorinsky, D-Neb.; Dennis De-Concini, D-Ariz.; H. John Heinz III, R-Pa.; John Danforth, R-Mo.; Harrison J. Schmitt, R-N.M., and Richard Lugar, R-Ind.

The American business community is contributing as well. The Council of the Americas, a group of 220 major corporations with heavy investments in Latin America, is intensifying its "educational" campaign in support of continued treaty negotiations, and Vance has already conferred with the Council's president, Henry R. Geyelein.

Conservatives fighting a new treaty are far from finished, however. Thurmond, five other members of Congress and a Canal Zone labor leader have filed suit in federal court in Washington seeking a judicial declaration that only the full Congress has the right to dispose of U.S. territory of property, and the case could throw a monkey wrench into the treaty progress.

But for now, Carter seems to be on the right track. He has already persuaded Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., one of the signers of last year's Thurmond resolution, to stay off the new version, and most other Senate Democrats are expected to follow suit. This doesn't guarantee the two-thirds support for ratification of a new treaty, but it should give the President the necessary elbow room to negotiate a pact that can be sold to the public and the Congress alike.

Just in jest

The way some folks complain about today's television programs one would get the idea that all they add up to is an endless parade of cops and robbers, frustrated doctors, blood and thunder, sex, violence and soporific soap operas. But let's give that old devil television its due. It just can't be all that bad — not when up to 29 per cent of TV viewing time is devoted to commercials.

Ann Landers

VD quiz printed again

Dear Ann Landers: Thank God you have enough courage (and clout) to print information in your column that most writers wouldn't (or couldn't) get past an editor. I refer to educating readers about VD. Please, Ann, rerun that VD quiz — along with the answers. — Me and Millions of Others

Dear You: In a free society, knowledge is the one weapon that can eradicate VD. We must acknowledge the following: Over three million people in the U.S. become infected every year. VD doesn't care who has it. Some very "respectable" people get it and pass it on. VD can be prevented. Silence, fear and guilt are no longer warranted. Anyone who suspects he has VD can go to the city or county health department for a free test and free treatment. Parents of minors will NOT be notified.

Here's the test. The answers can be found at the end:

(1) VD is transmitted by: (a) Sexual relations with an infected person, (b) Toilet seats, (c) Kissing.

(2) If not treated, gonorrhea may turn into syphilis: (a) True, (b) False.

(3) The largest number of reported cases of communicable diseases in the United States last year was from: (a) Measles, (b) Chicken Pox, (c) Gonorrhea, (d) Syphilis.

(4) A person with VD will have: (a) Symptoms all of the time, (b) Symptoms part of the time, (c) No symptoms ever.

(5) If you get syphilis and see a doctor he (or she) can: (a) Help you some but not cure you, (b) Cure you some of the time, (c) Cure you all of the time.

(6) The symptoms of syphilis and gonorrhea are: (a) Usually painful, (b) Almost always noticeable, (c) Often hidden, (d) Almost always hidden.

(7) If a man and woman both get gonorrhea: (a) The man will notice symptoms first, (b) The woman will notice symptoms first, (c) They will both notice symptoms at the same time.

(8) The symptoms of gonorrhea may be: (a) A sore on the sex parts, (b) Discharge from the sex parts, (c) A rash on the body.

(9) The symptoms of syphilis may be: (a) A sore on the sex parts, (b) A rash on the body, (c) Sore throat, (d) All of the above.

(10) Once you have had syphilis or gonorrhea you can catch it again: (a) Yes, (b) No, (c) Only gonorrhea, (d) Only syphilis.

(11) If a pregnant woman has syphilis and it is not treated, her baby: (a) Will always be born with syphilis, (b) May be born with syphilis, (c) Will never be born with syphilis.

(12) Venereal disease can be a serious problem: (a) Only to people who are careless, (b) Only to people who don't behave properly, (c) Only to teenagers and young adults, (d) To anybody and everybody.

(13) It is correct to say: (a) A "negative" blood test always means you don't have syphilis, (b) A "positive" blood test always means you do have syphilis, (c) If you have syphilis, sooner or later your blood test will be "positive."

(14) VD education in the schools will: (a) Make young people curious and lead them to experiment with sex, (b) Teach them that the disease can be cured and make them less careful about protecting themselves against it, (c) Provide them with accurate information so they will know how to avoid the disease and emphasize the necessity of seeing a doctor if they should become infected.

The correct answers are as follows: 1. (a), 2. (b), 3. (c), 4. (b), 5. (c), 6. (c) 7. (a), 8. (b), 9. (d), 10. (a), 11. (b), 12. (d), 13. (c), 14. (c).

Marmaduke

"I'll give the turn signals, Marmaduke!"

Dr. Miller

It's swaying, not the music

DEAR DR. MILLER: Just read that a snake charmer's cobra isn't music-minded at all. Why does the charmer bother with the flute anyway, then? How disillusioning! — W.S.

DEAR W.S.: 'Tis true. The music is for the masses, or at least any Homo sapiens-type bystanders. The snake's swaying, if any, is in response to movement from the flute directly in front of it.

DEAR DR. MILLER: Our dog came down with leptospirosis, but the doctor cured him, mostly with antibiotics. He said we could have picked up leptospirosis, too, and that we should keep Patches, our dog, vaccinated against leptospirosis from here on. Believe you me, we're going to, too. He said the disease can be picked up by a dog from rats. Mother forgot to tell him that I had a pet possum for a little while. I let it go because it was very unfriendly and a terrible messer-upper. I got to wondering, could Patches have gotten that leptospirosis bug from Nosey — that was my name for the possum — or do they ever get it? — B.B.

DEAR B.B.: Yes, not only rodents, but skunks, raccoons, foxes, and oppossums are among the small furry beasties that can transmit leptospirosis. More than mammals can be culprits. Leptospirosis has been found in everything from birds to turtles to ticks.

DEAR DR. MILLER: My husband thinks I'm out of my head to be planning now about breeding our pair of parakeets. Truthfully, I've been working with them since Thanksgiving to get them properly fed up and to be sure they were getting the very best of foods. My husband thinks this is a waste of time, saying that Jack and Jill will get around to it when they're good and ready, and all this fussing ahead of time isn't necessary. He says just let nature take its course? — L.V.

DEAR L.V.: Letting nature take its course can't be accomplished within the confines of a cage — obviously the cage itself is a contradiction in terms as far as nature is concerned. Would-be budgie breeders, therefore, have to take charge. The earlier birds are brought into condition by supplying proper environment and nutrition, the better. Those who seriously want to breed their budgies this year should be into conditioning their birds, or at least make that start, now. Parakeets proliferate more successfully in the early spring. June weddings will work for some. But parakeets properly prepared for passion and its consequences early are more likely to do it — and also have a better chance of successfully raising a feathered family or two.

Doctoring up the computer

Back in the olden, golden days of my youth, when you got sick the family doctor came to your house to take your temperature and pulse, look at your tongue and prescribe plenty of rest. It always worked — so far. Then the Jack Nicklaus matched irons came on the market, and now the only way you can get a doctor's attention is by shouting "Fore!"

Today's doctors all seem so much younger than they used to. When I was a boy, our paunchy, silver-thatched family doctor seemed older than God; now I'm being punched and prodded, cut open and stitched up by young men the age of my own son. It's a little unnerving. (Did you hear about the tree surgeon who didn't make house calls?)

Still, an athletic young doctor who plays to an eight handicap and has a place at the beach is better than no doctor at all, and I was grateful for my small blessings when I read about the Center for Health Sciences at the University of Wisconsin where the patient doesn't get a doctor but a computer. Fancy babbling intimate clinical data to an electronic typewriter and a small television screen! Anyway, old DR-X-200 would only tell you to take a couple of aspirin and plug him in if you're not better in the morning.

Actually Wisconsin's electronic brain does not diagnose ailments and prescribe pills, but it will only be a few years (1984) until the computer takes over the practice of medicine completely, from asking "How are we this morning?" to doing brain surgery. Medical technicians will be replaced by television repairmen, thus doubling the cost of medical care, but it will give the doctors more time on the tennis courts and ski slopes. Could a computer give shots? And if so, which ones would It (ulp!) select.

Take the case of Mrs. Nettie Garfunkle, 46, who has been "feeling poorly" lately. She makes an appointment with the doctor's answering service and has her hair done, puts on lipstick and new pantyhose — women always get gussied up for a trip to the doctor's office as though they were going to the Junior Prom — and shows up at the office. The sign on the door says "The computer is in."

Dubiously entering the empty examination room, Nettie sits down in a chair, knee to neutron with DR-X-200, an imposing instrument complete with differential analyzer, electron microscope and photoelectric camera. As she sits in the chair she activates an electric beam, and a tape-recorded voice (mature, male, cultivated) intones, "What seems to be our touble, Mrs. — zzzzt — Garfunkle?"

"Well, Dr. X, I've been feeling poorly lately. I've got sort of aches all over; I don't sleep well; I've lost my appetite. My daughter-in-law, Charlotte — she's the one that married my son, Jerry — she says she's never seen me looking so — "

"Please put out your tongue."

The electron microscope examines Mrs. Garfunkle's tongue and feeds the observations to the computer. The differential analyzer records her temperature; a computerized tungar rectifier takes her pulse, and a small metal hammer controlled by a photoelectric cell raps her on the kneecap.

"Mrs. Makaroff, the butcher's wife, she had symptoms just like mine," babbled Mrs. Garfunkle. "Not as bad, of course. But her computer told her — "

"Take two aspirin," said the tape-recorder. "If you're not better by morning, call my answering service. Please put $20 in the coin machine in the waiting room. This will activate the junction transistor which will let you out. Have a nice day."

Dr. Lamb

Ulcers really are seasonal

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have always heard ulcers come in the spring and fall but believe this to be an "old wives' tale" as they say. My husband, who has retired, has had one several times a year for the past few years. He had one last March and is now again suffering with one. I have him on milk and cream which is what his doctor suggests. He has gout and is taking one Benemid daily. I'm wondering whether there could be anything in that medication to affect the stomach and perhaps cause an ulcer to return so soon after being cured. He was X-rayed last April and was completely cured. Would you advise a diet at all times after one is cured to prevent future attacks?

DEAR READER — Some "old wives' tales" turn out to be true and this is one of them. Peptic ulcers of the duodenum — the common type — are more likely to occur in the spring and late fall. No one knows why but it is true of the North American population.

Peptic ulcers were relatively uncommon before 1900. What few ulcers did occur were usually of the stomach and not the duodenum. All of this suggests that our current lifestyle has a lot to do with the incidence of ulcers. To give you more information on this and what your husband can do about it I am sending you The Health Letter number 1-5, Ulcers — Duodenal, Stomach. Others who want this information can send 50 cents for it with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for mailing. Write to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

The most important thing your husband can do is to quit smoking if he smokes, avoid all forms of alcohol and not use any drinks that contain any caffeine. This includes coffee, tea, colas and chocolate drinks. I think with the severity of his problem he should also avoid the decaffeinated brands of coffee, since the flavor oils and other ingredients are irritating to some people.

The Benemid may irritate the stomach. It does so even in people without ulcers if the dosage is on the high side. You might talk with your doctor about putting him on Zyloprim (allopurinol). The difference is that Benemid helps the kidneys wash out excess uric acid from the body and allopurinol prevents it from being formed by the body cells — the main source of the uric acid. Zyloprim is not known to irritate the digestive system.

The milk and cream diet has been used for years but many doctors now question its value. I am concerned about the cream because your husband has gout. One of the major complications of gout is coronary artery disease.

I usually recommend that patients with gout stay on a low-fat, low-cholesterol diet to help prevent artery disease. Of course, a doctor is often faced with the lesser of evils in deciding what to do to help a patient. If your husband permits I would prefer to see him on a high protein diet, using fortified skim milk and antacids. Medicines to block the vagus nerve stimulation of acid digestive juice might also be used.

Avoiding excess stress, which sometimes means changing jobs or correcting home situations, entirely eliminating cigarettes, coffee, tea, colas and alcohol permanently and eating a sensible diet is a way of life for anyone who has or has had an ulcer or acid indigestion.

Forcing bid bombs at five

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

How many high-card points do you need for your hand to qualify as a forcing two bid?

The general answer is 18, although you may shade it to 17 or 16. With less, just bid one. The bid won't be passed out.

Today's hand represents real tough luck for North and South, but the fault lies entirely with the South player. He did hold two aces and he did have nine playing tricks in his hand. At least he had nine playing tricks, unless an opponent showed up with four hearts to the jack. Anyway, he opened two hearts.

North almost fell off his chair. Here he was with a sound opening bid of his own and a partner who had opened with a two bid. He just bid two spades to start with, but when South's next call was a jump to four hearts North just had to bid Blackwood. South responded with five hearts to show just two aces. All North could do was to gulp out a pass.

It was bad luck that South went down at five. West opened the ace of clubs and shifted to a diamond, but those things happen to players who get into that never-never land between game and slam.

Ask the Jacobys

A Tennessee reader wants to know why the forcing two bid is called the Culbertson two bid if he didn't invent it.

The answer is that his first blue book included the forcing two bid at a time when other writers were using different forcing bids. Incidentally, his original two-bid rules are just about what should be followed today.

Ten healthiest cities in U.S.

From one study of medical records nationwide, the researchers have turned up what they believe to be the 10 healthiest cities in the United States: 1. Honolulu, Hawaii. 2. Eugene, Ore. 3. San Francisco, Calif. 4. St. Cloud, Minn. 5. Austin, Texas. 6. La Junta, Colo. 7. Utica, N.Y. 8. Kanab, Utah. 9. Ketchikan, Alaska. 10. Middletown, Conn.

One out of three holders of bank cards pays off the entire balance every month. The other two out of three revolve an average outstanding balance of about $350.

Our Chief Prognosticator says you'll be able to buy TV shows like phonograph records soon. The turntable hookups will cost $300 and more. The disks themselves, as much as $18 apiece.

PEANUTS

Q. "Doesn't President Jimmy Carter owe his financial success in some degree to the peanut research of George Washington Carver? Didn't Carver invent peanut butter?"

A. Carver figured out more than 300 uses for the peanut, but he wasn't the first to come up with peanut butter. In 1890, a St. Louis doctor, whose name escapes me, made what he called peanut paste.

Q. "Can you name a more brutal and cruel sport than dogfighting?"

A. Probably not. But one candidate contest comes to mind. In some places in Mexico and Spain, roosters are buried up to their necks in packed earth. Their heads are greased. Then the sportsmen, riding their horses swiftly past, try to lean down far enough to grab at the exposed heads so as to pull the buried birds lose without those riders themselves becoming unseated.

RAINBOWS

Any airplane pilot will tell you that a rainbow has no end simply because it's completely circular. On the ground, you and I don't usually see the entire rainbow ring beyond the horizon. It's plainly visible at higher altitudes, though.

There are more castles in Spain — about 2,500 — than in all the rest of Europe combined.

Hawaii is now said to be the state wherein people on the average live the longest. Just 73.6 years, to be specific.

Reported on so far were the cattle drives of the Old West and the hog drives through the Appalachians. Have yet to mention the turkey drives in Missouri. There, in the 1890's, numerous families pooled their birds and drove them overland to market. Incredibly stupid, turkeys. Nonetheless, it was they who decided on each night's campsite. When the turkeys picked out a place to roost, that was it. The many boys who herded them built their campfires on the spot and ate their rations. My informant says those young fellows prayed every afternoon that the turkeys would roost in a town with a tavern. Mostly, they didn't.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

FEBRUARY NIGHT SKY — An introduction to the night sky in February and a program on comets will be given free of charge Thursdays at 7 p.m. at Citrus College Planetarium this month. (Feb.) The public is welcome.

Night sky topic on comets

"Comets ... Mysterious Visitors of the Sky," will be the subject of four Thursday evening programs at Citrus College Planetarium during February. The programs, all at 7 p.m., are free and open to the public. Dates are Thursday and Feb. 10, 17 and 24.

The program on comets will be presented by Kent Miller, physics instructor at Claremont High School who also instructs classes in astronomy in the Evening Division at Citrus College.

PUC acts in money order debacle

The California Public Utilities Commission has ordered all California gas, electric, water, sewer and telephone utilities to extend the payment period for customers affected by invalid money orders issued by the Universal Money Order Co., which has filed for bankruptcy.

The action was taken because money orders sent to the utilities by customers in payment of their bills are being refused payment by banks. Under existing rules the bills of these customers are not considered paid, and such customers might be subject to discontinuance of service because of non-payment.

The PUC action extends the payment period for customers affected by the invalid money orders to 90 days instead of the usual 15 days provided for in utility tariffs.

The extension is applicable only to money orders issued by Universal Money Order Co. and dated on or before today.

"The authorization extension period," the PUC said, "shall not be treated as evidence of adverse credit standing by any utility with respect to the customer to whom the extension is granted."

Universal Money Order Company filed for bankruptcy in New York on Jan. 12. From preliminary estimates, the PUC said, it appears that the largest effect of returned money orders is on Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

PT&T estimates that they have upwards of 10,000 money orders with a total value of $250,000 or more. Southern California Gas Co. has a preliminary estimate of unpaid money orders in excess of $100,000.

Groups organize Cinco de Mayo fete

Representatives of the Mexican-American communities in Pomona, Ontario, Riverside and San Bernardino will meet tonight in Colton to organize the Inland Empire Cinco de Mayo Committee.

The program, starting at 7:30 p.m., will be held at the multi-purpose center, 120 E. O St.

Representatives will seek to organize Cinco de Mayo events, including a parade, carnival, queen contest and fiesta.

Persons wanting more information may phone Armando Navarro, 981-4356.

Three deny robbery killing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A former U.S. Postal Service worker and two others have pleaded innocent to charges they robbed and killed a mail truck driver last fall.

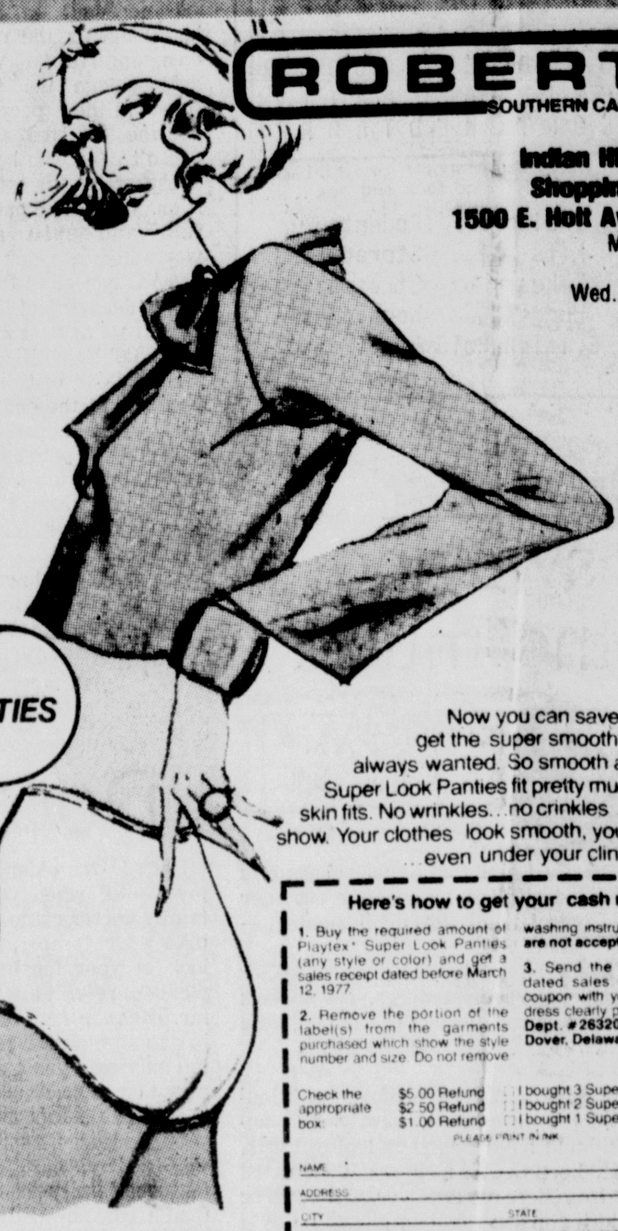

U.S. District Court Judge Robert Firth scheduled a March 22 trial for Lamar Adams, 25, the former postal worker; John Benett Ward, 26, and James Lee Pinkerton, 26, all of Los Angeles.

They are charged in the slaying of David Solat, 31, near the Lennox post office last October.

Sauced shrimp, marguerita meringue pie from Mexico

Southwestern gourmets are finding a whole new world of creativity in the Mexican kitchen with a peppery, new spice that blends so well with so many dishes . . . tequila.

Tequila is a distilled spirit made from varieties of the agave plant. It has a heady, peppery taste that enhances and blends with the earthen flavors prominent in most Mexican recipes. During cooking, the alcohol evaporates, as with wine or any other liquor, letting the basic flavor of the spirits come through.

Seafood is an important ingredient on Mexican menus, especially with Mexico's coastline bordering the Pacific, Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean. And, there's nothing better with the delicate flavor of shellfish than a spicy flavorful sauce.

Sauced Shrimp is a perfect recipe to introduce you and your palate to the flavors of cooking with tequila. The sauce is a careful blending of fresh tomatoes with onion, garlic, dried red chili for warmth, and cumin. After these basic ingredients have had time to simmer together, the tequila, tomato juice and the shrimp are added. As soon as the shrimp are cooked, sprinkle with parsley and serve on a bed of hot, lightly buttered rice.

Another flavorful dish from south of the border is a natural for the dessert menu: Marguerita Meringue Pie. Incorporated into this special dessert are the well-known flavors of the Marguerita, one of Mexico's most popular drinks. Marguerita Meringue Pie is a creamy mixture of eggs, lime, Triple Sec and tequila, baked in a light, flakey pie crust and topped with a generous swirl of meringue.

SAUCED SHRIMP

- 1½ pounds uncooked shrimp
- 1 pound fresh tomatoes
- ¾ cup chopped onion
- 2 teaspoons minced garlic
- 1 tablespoon oil
- 1 bay leaf
- ¼ teaspoon powdered cumin
- ⅛ teaspoon ground dried red chile
- 1 can (6 ounces) tomato juice
- ½ cup Tequila
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- Hot cooked rice

Peel and de-vein shrimp. Scald tomatoes, remove skins and cores, and dice tomatoes to measure about 2 cups. Saute onion and garlic in oil until soft but not browned. Stir in bay leaf, cumin and chile. Add tomato juice and tequila, and simmer 5 minutes. Add diced tomato, and heat. Add shrimp, and cook 5 minutes, just until shrimp are cooked through. Stir in lemon juice and sprinkle with parsley. Serve with hot cooked rice. Makes about 1 quart, 4 to 5 servings.

MARGUERITA MERINGUE PIE

- 1 (9-inch) baked pie shell
- 1 1/3 cups sugar
- 1/3 cup cornstarch
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup water
- 1/3 cup tequila
- 4 large eggs, separated
- ¼ cup lime juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lime peel
- 2 tablespoons Triple Sec Meringue

Prepare, bake and cool pie shell. In 2-quart saucepan, combine 1 cup sugar, cornstarch and salt. Stir in water and tequila. Set over moderate heat, and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a full boil and is thick. Remove from heat. Beat egg yolks lightly. Stir about half the hot mixture into yolks. Combine with remaining cooked mixture, and cook over very low heat, stirring constantly, one minute longer. Do not allow mixture to boil after adding egg yolks. Remove from heat, and stir in remaining 1/3 cup sugar, lime juice and peel, and Triple Sec. Turn into baked pie shell. Top with meringue. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 8 to 10 minutes, until browned. Cool thoroughly before cutting. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Pie Shell: Combine 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour with ¾ teaspoon salt. Cut in ½ cup shortening until particles are size of peas. Sprinkle with about 5 tablespoons cold milk, adding just enough to make a stiff dough. Shape into a ball. Roll out to an 11½-inch circle on lightly floured board. Place in 9-inch pie pan, build up a high fluted rim. Prick all over bottom and sides of pastry. Bake in center of hot oven (425 degrees) about 15 minutes, until nicely browned.

Meringue: Beat 4 egg whites with ⅛ teaspoon EACH salt and cream of tartar to soft peaks. Beat in ½ cup sugar, a tablespoon at a time, continuing to beat to a stiff meringue. Spoon over pie, and spread to cover filling, sealing to edge of pie shell.

Prepare a salad of sliced bananas, mayonnaise and popped corn.

Add an apple to vegetable soup for improved flavor.

• • •

Revive dry coconut by placing it in sieve over steam, then cooling.

• • •

A couple of pinches of brown sugar will salvage oversalted soup and yet not sweeten it.

• • •

Wrap narrow slices of bacon around cheese spread zwiebeick and broil.

• • •

Add ½ cup cottage cheese to every 1 pound ground round steak, and season as usual. Unusual, moist and budget wise.

• • •

Add a stick of cinnamon to oatmeal while cooking, but remove before serving.

• • •

Try grated lemon rind in mush and grated orange rind in gingerbread.

With spicy but cool flavor

Tortilla dumpling soup, flautas del norte set

If you're among those who think Mexican food is hot and spicy, you're right . . . some of the time.

The impression that Mexican cuisine is always highly seasoned is a misconception. It can be as peppery or as bland as your palate prefers, and still be authentic.

Home economists for Rosarita Mexican Foods Co. have developed two recipes for south of the border creations that are mildly flavored yet distinctively Mexican.

Flautas del Norte is a main-dish combination of tortilla (either corn or flour) wrapped around a cheese/meat filling, baked and topped with sour cream. For a good menu accompaniment try Tortilla Dumpling Soup, beef broth with dumplings made from softened tortillas seasoned lightly with onion, garlic and cheese.

And for those who "like it hot," serve a side dish of jalapeno or other chili peppers.

FLAUTAS DEL NORTE
(4 Servings)

12 flour or corn tortillas
1 package (10 oz.) bulk sausage
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1/3 cup shredded cheddar cheese
1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese
¼ teaspoon dried marjoram
1/3 cup dairy sour cream

In skillet heat tortillas until slightly brown and soft. Mix together sausage, onion, cheeses and marjoram.

Place two tablespoons sausage mixture across center of each tortilla; roll up. Place in 7 x 11-inch baking dish. Cover and bake at 375 degrees for 35 minutes. Spoon sour cream over hot tortillas.

TORTILLA DUMPLING SOUP
(6 servings)

12 corn tortillas
½ cup milk
1 small clove garlic, chopped fine
1 small onion, chopped fine
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 egg, lightly beaten
2 egg yolks
Salt and pepper
Cooking oil
2 quarts beef broth
½ cup tomato paste

Open tortilla package and allow to dry out . . . Cut tortillas into quarters and soak in milk until soft. Combine with onions and garlic; blend in blender until smooth. Combine tortilla mixture with cheese, egg and egg yolks; add salt and pepper to taste. Shape into small balls and fry in hot oil until lightly browned. Keep warm.

In saucepan, heat beef broth and tomato puree. Add tortilla balls and serve.

Encores for Ham

When you are fortunate enough to have ham leftovers, consider these intriguing serving ideas from the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Cut the ham into cubes or julienne strips and serve in a favorite casserole or in a cream or cheese sauce over English muffins, hot biscuits or corn bread. If it's a speedy supper you're looking for, pair heated slices of ham with baked beans, macaroni and cheese, creamed potatoes or Spanish rice. Ground ham will rate raves when made into meat loaves, patties, croquettes, cabbage rolls or stuffed peppers.

Pork 'loin' roast with a mincemeat stuffing

Observe carefully the cook with a reputation for working magic with meals. Chances are, it's less a matter of sleight of hand than a bewitching use of ordinary foods, served out of context. Cherry pie, for example, is a predictable February dessert. In October, it's unexpected — and doubly appreciated.

Or take mincemeat. There's no reason to hold it in reserve for the holidays or, for that matter, to use it only in pie. This pork loin stuffing is made with mincemeat, and benefits from the delectable spiciness. Using a package of condensed mincemeat it's not only imaginative — it's a shortcut, too.

The pork roast itself knows no season, as more and more cooks get acquainted with its versatility as both an indoor and outdoor barbecued specialty. The tender, lean pork we buy today has excellent flavor and provides nature's best source of thiamine along with complete protein and many other nutrients. It is the result of careful selection and actually contains fewer calories than beef or lamb.

The boned and tied tender lean pork loin roast makes life easy for the carver, as it cuts into trim slices. Before roasting, cut through the ties and spread the prepared mincemeat stuffing between the portions. Then tie it again, and roast until a meat thermometer registers 170 degrees.

Be prepared for queries about your unusual ingredients. Tell them it's not the ingredient that's new, just a novel use of an old favorite — mincemeat for all seasons.

PORK LOIN ROAST WITH MINCEMEAT STUFFING AND GRAVY

Yield: 8 to 10 servings

- 5 pound pork boneless center loin roast
- 1 9-ounce package condensed mincemeat
- ⅓ cup water
- Salt
- Pepper
- ¼ cup flour
- 2 cups water
- 1 cup dairy sour cream, optional

Crumble mincemeat into small saucepan. Add water and stir over medium heat until well blended. Boil 1 minute. Cool. Remove strings from pork roast and separate in half lengthwise. Spread mincemeat evenly over bottom portion. Put roast back together again and tie securely. Season with salt and pepper. Place roast fat side up on rack in a shallow pan. Insert a roast meat thermometer into the thickest portion of the meat. Roast in a 325 degree oven about 3 hours or until roast meat thermometer reaches 170 degrees F.

Gravy: Combine flour with a small amount of water and blend thoroughly. Add flour mixture and remaining water to pan drippings. Stir constantly over low heat until gravy thickens. Blend in sour cream, if desired.

Sausage supper 'luau'

During the middle ages, regional types of sausage made European cities such as Bologna, Genoa and Frankfurt famous. That same popularity can be bestowed closer to home by using Armour Star Sausages.

Polynesian Sausage Supper combines tangy Kulbassy with the native foods of the Pacific Islands for a new, totally different flavor combination. Served over hot cooked rice and accompanied with melon wedges and banana nut bread, this international favorite can create a luau atmosphere right in your own home.

POLYNESIAN SAUSAGE SUPPER

- 1 pound Armour Star Kulbassy, cut in ½ inch pieces
- 1 cup sliced onion
- 1 cup green pepper chunks
- 3 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1 16-ounce can whole peeled tomatoes, drained, quartered
- 1 20-ounce can pineapple chunks in juice, drained, reserving liquid
- 1 cup beef broth
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar, packed
- ¼ teaspoon garlic powder
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- Hot cooked rice

Cook sausage, onions and green pepper in oil until onion is tender, about 5 minutes. Add tomatoes, pineapple, broth, brown sugar, garlic powder and pepper. Cover and simmer 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Mix cornstarch with reserved pineapple liquid; add to sausage mixture. Stir until thickened, approximately 5 minutes. Serve over rice.

Makes eight servings.

SUMMONS

PLAINTIFF: GENE EMILE GRAN and EMERY K. SMITH
DEFENDANT: JAMES BARRETT, aka JUAREZ BARRETO, CONDAIR INTERNATIONAL, INC., a California corporation, and DOES I through X, Inclusive

NOTICE! You have been sued. The court may decide against you without your being heard unless you respond within 30 days. Read the information below.

¡AVISO! Usted ha sido demandado. El Tribunal puede decidir contra Ud. sin audiencia a menos que Ud responda dentro de 30 dias. Lea la informacion que sigue.

1. TO THE DEFENDANT: A civil complaint has been filed by the plaintiff against you. (See footnote*)

a. If you wish to defend this lawsuit, you must, within 30 days after this summons is served on you, file with this court a written pleading in response to the complaint. (If a Justice Court, you must file with the court a written pleading or cause an oral pleading to be entered in the docket.) Unless you do so, your default will be entered upon application of the plaintiff, and this court may enter a judgment against you for the relief demanded in the complaint, which could result in garnishment of wages, taking of money or property or other relief requested in the complaint.

b. If you wish to seek the advice of an attorney in this matter, you should do so promptly so that your written response, if any, may be filed on time.

DATED: January 18, 1977
JOHN J. CORCORAN,
Acting County Clerk
By K. Festag, Deputy
(SEAL)

*The word "complaint" includes cross-complaint, "plaintiff" includes cross-complainant, "defendant" includes cross-defendant, singular includes the plural and masculine includes feminine and neuter. A written pleading, including an answer, demurrer, etc., must be in the form required by the California Rules of Court. Your original pleading must be filed in this court with proper filing fees and proof that a copy thereof was served on each plaintiff's attorney and on each plaintiff not represented by an attorney. The time when a summons is deemed served on a party may vary depending on the method of service. For example, see CCP 413.10 through 415.40.

Culinary competition

Veteran chef team leader

If Frank Sgro were not better known as an executive chef, he might be called an inventor. The successful co-owner of the restaurant, Sgro's of Pittsburgh, he has developed utensils and food preparation techniques that were new to foodservice industry.

It is this resourcefulness which prompted the American Culinary Federation to tap him for the role of coordinator of the 1976 United States Culinary Team to the International Culinary Competition in Frankfurt, Germany. In this capacity Sgro has contributed to the testing of Competition menus and design of hot food platters. While the Team, which is sponsored by Kraft Foods, is in Frankfurt, he will organize the use of equipment and food to ensure that the chefs have what they need when it is needed. Sgro also intends to compete on an individual basis in the hot food category as he did in 1972 when he won a silver medal.

One of Sgro's major accomplishments is a new method for breaking down and slow cooking ribs of beef to yield more portions. He devised a stainless steel cooking form for boned Cornish hens which allows it to cook evenly while retaining its original shape; and twenty years before any like product was available commercially, Sgro formulated a blend of seasonings in a plastic bag for coating meats.

Sgro will apply his inventive talents to the platters he is entering in the Frankfurt Competition. To ensure that he has the best quality, he has even grown some of his own foods to prepare for his display platters. From an unlikely start as a dishwasher in Atlantic City, Sgro has advanced to become an accomplished butcher, garde manager, restaurateur and certified executive chef — qualifications which make him ideally suited for the job of coordinator for the Team representing the best chefs in the United States.

Heart o'mine cookies

Romantically St. Valentine's Day is approved as a time for the giving of sweets and special gifts to close friends and family favorites.

What better way to send out a few love notes than to bake some cookies which will be love notes for those of all ages. Heart O'Mine cookies done with a heart-shaped cutter are Cupid-approved. Flaky pastry-like puffs are filled with red strawberry preserves and have a nut-like flavor from old-fashioned oats plus a touch of cream cheese. These should melt someone's heart on St. Valentine's Day.

HEART O'MINE COOKIES

1 cup butter or margarine, soft
2 packages (3 ounce) cream cheese, soft
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup oats, quick or old-fashioned, uncooked
Strawberry preserves

Beat butter and cream cheese together until creamy. Blend in vanilla. Sift together flour and salt. Add to creamed mixture, mixing well. Stir in oats. Chill dough about 1 hour.

Roll out on lightly floured board or canvas to one-fourth inch thickness. Cut with floured two and one-half-inch cookie cutter. Place on ungreased cookie sheets. Press with thumb to make indentation in center of each cookie; fill with a scant one-half teaspoon strawberry preserves. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 16 to 18 minutes or until a delicate golden brown. Makes two and one-half dozen cookies.

Blue cheese, party salmon spreads made easy to fix

There is nothing so boring at a party, or pre-dinner appetizer, as the usual.

Psychologically, it only gives people the idea that they are going to have the usual kind of dinner.

The Epicurean Food Processor makes it possible for any hostess to literally "whip up" some light, tasty dips and spreads that will stave off the pre-meal hungries and whet the appetite at the same time.

Most hosts and hostesses are concerned about preparation time and the Epicurean Food Processor literally cuts preparation time down to a fraction, allowing you to enjoy your own party.

It does everything its European counterpart does for $125 less and also has a U.L. approved General Electric motor that has 20 to 30 per cent more output and includes a reset button that guards against burnout.

BLUE CHEESE SPREAD

A popular spread to serve with drinks, this is made in one minute. It keeps well and can be frozen. Serve with crackers or freshly made toast with crusts removed. 'Hint: Small bowls, tiny ramekins, or pots de creme molds let each guest have his own share.)

- 6 ounces blue cheese
- ½ cup butter, cut into small pieces

Process the cheese and butter for one minute until smooth. Serve immediately or chill until ready to use. Use steel blade. Serves four.

PARTY SALMON SPREAD

Served with crackers, French bread or rye bread, this is a different and tasty treat for the new breed of "fish lovers" in the crowd, and it should be a crowd, since it serves approximately 35.

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- ½ cup water
- 1 can (16 oz.) salmon
- 1 cup coarsely chopped onion
- ½ cup dairy sour cream
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon garlic salt
- ¼ teaspoon dill weed
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 4 sprigs parsley

Soften gelatin in water. Dissolve over hot water. Place remaining ingredients in Epicurean Food Processor. Mix one minute and then mix in gelatin (30 seconds). Pour into a 5-cup mold. Chill until firm. Turn out on serving dish and garnish with parsley, pimento. Use plastic blade.

GUACAMOLE

A Mexican tradition, a California favorite, now an American standard, guacamole has become a household word. Yet, because of the skill and time involved in making a good, smooth dip, it remains mostly a store-bought item. The Epicurean Food Processor eliminates the elbow grease in, again, one minute.

- 2 medium sized ripe avacados, pitted
- 4 scallions
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon Worchestershire sauce
- 2 tablespoons lime juice

Use steel blade. Serves two generously.

Wild-Chinese rice, stuffed tomato cup a budget boon

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

Rice in its many variations makes a one-dish meal, a stuffing or a perfect accompaniment to a favorite meat or poultry dish.

The blend of long grain and wild rice, for example, sets the tone for a casserole that includes Chinese vegetables and lean pork chops. Serve this with Chinese noodles and soy sauce. Another dish is to stuff tomatoes with a rice mixture; or blend rice with cranberries and cashews to serve with Rock Cornish hens. The possibilities are limitless and certainly help stretch any budget with taste.

WILD-CHINESE RICE

- 1 package (6 ounces) long grain and wild rice
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1¼ cups water
- 1 can (16 ounces) Chinese vegetables, drained
- 6 lean pork chops
- Black pepper

Mix contents of rice package, soup and water in 2-quart casserole. Add Chinese vegetables. Arrange pork chops on top. Sprinkle with black pepper. Bake 1 hour 20 minutes in 350-degree oven. Serve with Chinese noodles and soy sauce. Makes six servings.

WILD RICE STUFFED TOMATO CUPS

- 1 can (10½ ounce) condensed beef broth
- 1 soup can water
- 1 package (6 ounces) long grain and wild rice
- 4 ripe tomatoes, about 3 inches in diameter
- ¼ cup sliced green onion
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ½ teaspoon salt

Combine beef broth and water and contents of rice and seasoning packets in saucepan; stir. Bring to a boil. Cover lightly and cook over low heat until liquid is absorbed, about 25 minutes. Cut tomatoes in half crosswise; remove, chop and drain pulp. Cook onion and tomato pulp in butter until onion is tender and no liquid remains. Stir into cooked rice.

Sprinkle tomato cups with salt. Fill with the mixture. Place on baking sheet in 350-degree oven until heated, about 12 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

WILD RICE CRANBERRY CASSEROLE

- 1 package (6 ounces) long grain and wild rice
- 1 cup raw cranberries
- 1 cup sliced celery
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ cup chopped salted cashews
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Cook contents of rice and seasoning packets according to package directions. Stir cranberries into cooked rice. Heat, uncovered, until berries begin to pop, about 5 minutes. Stir in celery, sugar, cashews and orange rind. Spoon into a shallow one and one-half quart casserole. Cover tightly. Place in 350-degree oven and heat thoroughly, 30 to 40 minutes. Serve as an accompaniment for Rock Cornish hens. Makes 6 to 8 servings, about four and one-half cups.

Breakfast plates

Drain canned pineapple slices well. Melt butter with a little ground ginger. Add pineapple and saute until hot. Serve with bacon or sausage.

Lebanese oven dinner combines meat, potato

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

Meat and potatoes are popular combinations in most parts of the world. However, the "meat" generally is not the all-American favorite beef.

An adaptation of a Lebanese stew, for example, includes economical shoulder lamb chops, lamb being a mainstay of the Lebanese diet. Unlike beef, which is not readily available and pork, which is forbidden by the Moslem faith, lamb is plentiful in the Mideast and rich in flavor. Mideastern cooking is simple to handle in the American kitchen. Ingredients such as the lamb chops, eggplant and tomatoes well-seasoned with garlic and thyme are cooked in a large jelly-roll or baking pan while the potatoes are baked. The combination of juices makes a delicious sauce to spoon over the potatoes and meat. Serve together in a bowl or garnish a platter with orange slices and parsley to serve.

LEBANESE OVEN DINNER

- 6 medium potatoes
- 1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes
- 1 eggplant, unpeeled and diced
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon thyme leaves
- 6 shoulder lamb chops, 1-inch thick
- Orange slices for garnish
- Parsley for garnish

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Scrub potatoes. Pierce in several places with tines of a fork. Place potatoes in small baking pan. Drain tomatoes, reserving liquid. Coarsely chop tomatoes and arrange with remaining ingredients except lamb chops in jelly-roll pan. With large spoon or spatula, turn tomato mixture and push to one end of pan. Arrange lamb chops at other end. Return to oven and bake 30 minutes more or until meat, vegetables and potatoes are tender. To serve: Slash each potato open and fluff up flesh with a fork. Arrange with meat on a serving platter. Garnish with orange slices and parsley. Spoon vegetable mixture into serving bowl. Heat reserved tomato liquid to use as sauce. (Vegetables can be spooned over baked potatoes, if you like.) Makes 6 servings.

Walnut combo

Everyone, including the cook, will go for this cool dessert combo that can be made so quickly. Chill ripe avocados; halve, pit and brush with lemon juice. Fill hollows with a tangy sherbet mixed with chopped toasted California walnuts for an interesting crunchy texture. Orange, lime or pineapple sherbets are fine choices. Top off each serving with a walnut half or a large walnut piece.

Heavenly ice cream trifle convenient with wide appeal

How the trifle ('something inconsequential') ever got its name is hard to imagine. Even when it was simply stale cake covered with jam, soaked in wine, and dolloped with custard sauce it was a dessert of huge appeal.

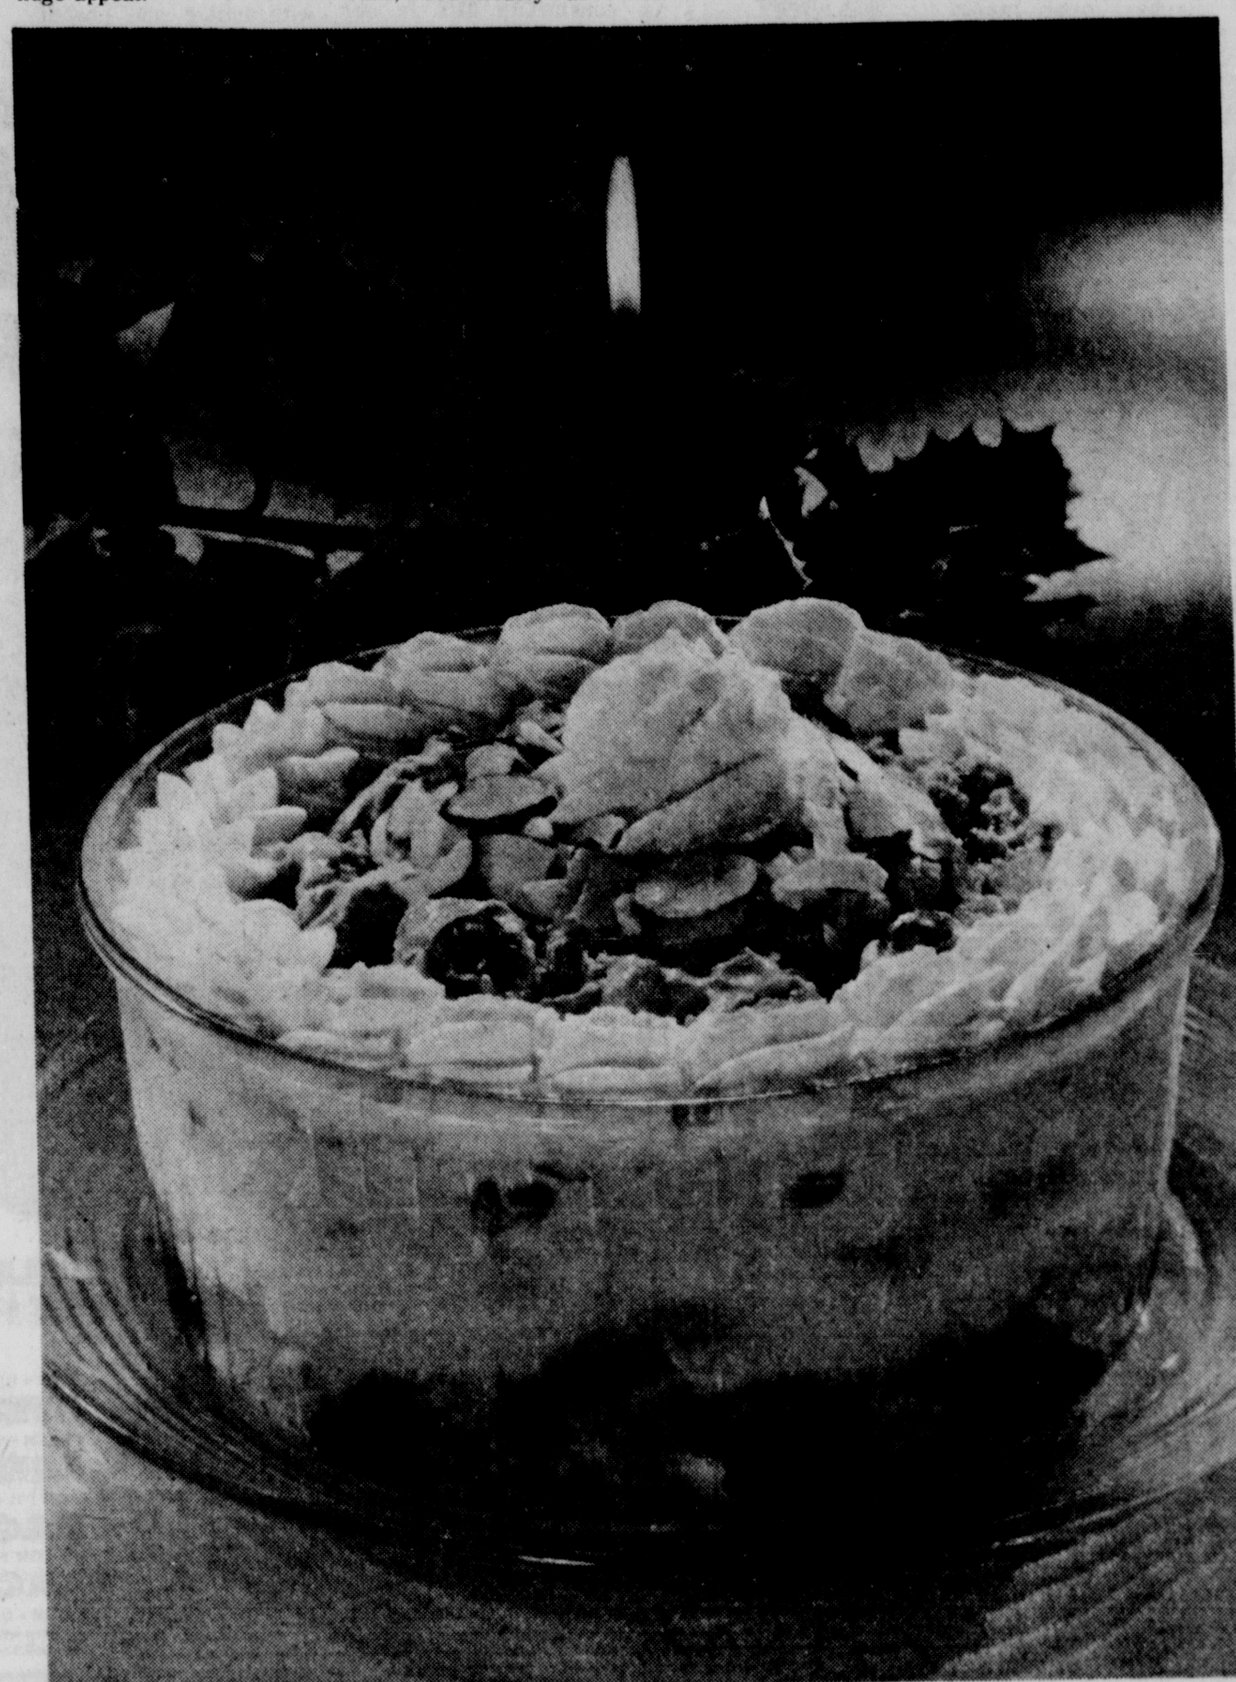

This delicious version is also convenient. Not only can it be prepared days ahead but it requires no cooking expertise. Heavenly Ice Cream Trifle depends on nothing more than delectable ingredients and hand packed ice cream, beautifully assembled.

You start out with airy lady fingers spread with raspberry jam, add orange juice spiked with a little cherry wine, crumble macaroons and sprinkle over the top, and finish with Burgundy Cherry ice cream.

Simply pop it in the freezer and bring it forth at the appropriate time to set before your guests.

This dessert is recommended for when you want to serve something special but have very little time for extra cooking.

Two other do-aheads are the sumptuous Coconut-Praline ice cream pie and the sophisticated Burgundy Cherry-Cream Cheese Pie.

HEAVENLY ICE CREAM TRIFLE

HEAVENLY ICE CREAM TRIFLE

Landy fingers and macaroons, whipped cream and ice cream, raspberry jam and almonds.

- 8 ladyfingers, split
- 1/3 cup raspberry or strawberry jam
- 1/3 cup orange juice
- 3 tablespoons cherry wine (optional)
- 8 almond or coconut macaroons, crushed
- 1 quart burgundy cherry ice cream
- ½ cup heavy or whipping cream
- 3 tablespoons powdered sugar
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup sliced or slivered almonds, toasted

Spread split lady fingers with jam. Arrange in a single layer, jam side up (cutting to fit, if necessary) in the bottom of an 1½ quart glass souffle dish (or an 8-inch square pan.) Mix orange juice and cherrywine; (if cherry wine is not used, use ½ cup orange juice), pour over ladyfingers. Sprinkle with crushed macaroons and cover with the slightly softened ice cream. Freeze at least 3 hours. Just before serving, whip cream, powdered sugar and vanilla together. Swirl over ice cream. Sprinkle with toasted almonds. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

BURGUNDY CHERRY-CREAM CHEESE PIE

- 2 packages (3 ounces) cream cheese
- 1/3 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 9-inch baked pie crust
- 1 quart burgundy cherry ice cream

Cream cheese and 1/3 cup sugar together until smooth; add vanilla, blend well. In medium bowl, whip cream with 2 tablespoons sugar just until stiff. Fold whipped cream into cream cheese mixture. Spoon into pie crust. Freeze at least 1 hour. Slightly soften the Burgundy Cherry Ice Cream, spoon and spread over cream cheese mixture, mounding slightly in center. Freeze at least 2 hours. Allow to mellow in refrigerator for about 10 minutes before cutting into wedges. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

COCONUT-PRAILINE ICE CREAM PIE

- 2 tablespoons soft butter
- 1 can (3½ ounces) flaked coconut
- 1 quart butter pecan ice cream
- 1 quart coconut ice cream
- 1 recipe Prailine Sauce (see below)

Spread the butter in a 9-inch pie pan; press the coconut into the butter. Bake in a 300 degree oven until a light brown; about 20 minutes. (If edges brown too quickly, cover with foil and continue baking until done.) Cool shell. Slightly soften the Butter Pecan Ice Cream and press into bottom of shell. Freeze for 1 hour. Scoop the Coconut Ice Cream over Butter Pecan Ice Cream. Freeze at least 3 hours. Meanwhile, prepare Praline Sauce. To serve, cut pie into wedges, pass the Praline Sauce. Makes 8 servings.

Praline Sauce: Combine in a heavy saucepan, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup buttermilk, 1 tablespoon molasses, ¼ cup butter, 2 tablespoons white corn syrup, ½ teaspoon baking soda. Bring to a gentle boil, simmer for 8 minutes, stirring occasionally; remove from heat. Stir in ½ teaspoon vanilla and 1/3 cup coarsely chopped pecans.

Baked almond chicken

As we once more settle into our daily routines, family meal planning is coupled with our concern for the weekly food budget. For simple dinners, chicken seems the perfect choice. It's economical, versatile, and a perpetual favorite.

While there are many ways to prepare chicken, one of the favorites is baking. Here is a delicious new idea with a crunchy twist, Baked Almond Chicken. Boned chicken breasts are dipped in an onion-curry seasoned sour cream mixture for a tangy, unusual undercoating, and then rolled in diced roasted almonds before baking. While simple to prepare, this is no ordinary chicken entree. You'll enjoy the crunchy almond coating as you bite into the tender moist meat.

While the chicken bakes, you'll have time to prepare rice and a fruit salad to accompany the chicken.

BAKED ALMOND CHICKEN

- 4 half breasts of chicken, about 1¾ pounds
- 2/3 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 teaspoon onion salt
- ⅛ teaspoon paprika
- 1/16 teaspoon curry powder
- 1 cup diced roasted almonds

Remove skin and bones from chicken. Mix together sour cream, onion salt, paprika and curry powder. Spread over all sides of chicken pieces. Roll chicken pieces in almonds and arrange on flat baking pan. Bake in 350-degree oven for about 45 minutes, until chicken is tender. Makes 4 servings.

Easy scalloped potatoes, 'cheese puffs' nutritious

Good cooks rely on milk and cheese when they plan nutritious meals. These two dairy foods stand out as being especially important. Milk is outstanding as a source of calcium, protein, vitamin A and riboflavin. Cheese contains many of milk's nutrients in concentrated form. The specific nutrients and amounts vary with the curd and whey content as with the processing methods used for making the various cheeses.

Many of the nutrients of milk, butter, jack cheese and potatoes are retained in the new method shown here for making scalloped potatoes. The seasonings — butter, garlic and thyme, as well as salt and pepper — simmer along with the thinly sliced potatoes and milk on top of the stove. Check them occasionally during this 15 minute period and give a stir now and then so they don't stick to the bottom of the pan. When tender sprinkle with grated jack cheese and put in the oven to bake for about 20 minutes more. If you start the cooking with a flame and ovenproof vessel there will be no need to transfer the creamy potato mixture into a casserole.

The recipe for cornmeal puff illustrates another type of hot milk and cheese dish that is hearty enough to serve as a light entree. The herbs give a pleasing accent to the bland dairy flavors. Serve when it's puffed and golden. Have everything else ready at the same time so you can enjoy this nutritious entree when it's flavor peak is fullest. Butter steamed fresh broccoli or zucchini would be good accompaniments.

EASY SCALLOPED POTATOES

- 1½ pounds boiling potatoes
- 1½ cups milk
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Few grinds pepper
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- ¼ teaspoon thyme, crumbled
- 1 cup grated monterey jack cheese
- Minced parsley

Pare potatoes and slice very thinly lengthwise, about ⅛-inch thick. Combine with milk, butter, salt, pepper, garlic and thyme in large saucepan. Heat to boiling and simmer 15 minutes, stirring often to prevent sticking. Transfer potatoes to 1½-quart baking dish. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in 350 degree oven about 20 minutes. Garnish with minced parsley. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

CORNMEAL CHEESE PUFF

- 1¼ cups milk
- ½ cup cornmeal
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon marjoram
- ¼ teaspoon dill weed
- ¼ teaspoon baking powder
- 2 eggs, separated
- ¾ cup grated monterey jack cheese
- Butter
- Grated parmesan cheese

Heat ¾ cup milk in saucepan until scalded. Mix cornmeal, salt, marjoram, dill weed and remaining ½ cup milk. Stir into hot milk and cook, stirring, until mixture comes to boil. Let it bubble gently 1 minute, stirring constantly. Mix in egg yolks. Mix in baking powder, jack cheese and 2 tablespoons butter, stirring until butter is melted. Whip egg whites until stiff. Fold into cornmeal mixture. Turn into buttered 1-quart baking dish. Bake in 375 degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until puffed and golden brown. Serve promptly (before it falls) with butter and grated parmesan cheese on top. Makes 4 servings.

Pork 'gold mine'

Honey-glazed ham harvest

All gold isn't in the ground or stored in vaults and jewel boxes. There's plenty of golden sunshine, even in the winter, and gold grows in citrus groves where it is harvested to add color to family tables across the nation.

The meat market, too, is a gold mine of sorts in that it holds a wealth of food nutrients. The cuts of meat displayed provide valuable high quality protein, important minerals and vitamins. Pork stands out as the richest natural source of thiamin, associated with a healthy nervous system.

Right now pork is a special value in this market "mine" for another reason too. Although in tight supply all last year, much more pork is coming to market this fall and winter and prices are increasingly attractive. Even your favorite pork cuts have come down in price.

Among the many good pork buys in the meat case, a smoked ham slice for broiling is one of the best selections for an easy yet delicious dinner. A pound or two of ham goes a long way in providing eating satisfaction. Prepackaged ham slices are a regular standby in the display case. Most are from "fully-cooked" ham and are so labled. A shopper can check with the retailer if she is in doubt.

A "fully-cooked" inch-thick ham slice is table ready after broiling 8 to 10 minutes on each side. If you wish to dress up this flavor-packed entree, brush a honey-orange juice glaze over the ham during broiling and add a bright garnish of orange slices. Like the ham slice itself, the glaze is easy to prepare. Simply combine frozen orange juice concentrate with honey and mustard and brush the slice while broiling.

Remember, there's nutritional gold in that platter as well as color to brighten the table.

HONEY-GLAZED HAM SLICE

- 1 slice smoked "fully-cooked" ham, cut 1 inch thick
- ¼ cup frozen orange juice concentrate, defrosted
- ¼ cup honey
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Combine juice, honey and mustard. Place ham slice on rack in broiling pan so surface of meat is approximately 3 inches from heat. Brush with orange sauce. Broil on first side 8 to 10 minutes, turn, brush with orange sauce and broil 6 to 10 minutes longer or until meat is heated through, brushing with orange sauce occasionally. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Texas-style pizza has pasta look, but tastes like chili

Misery is trying to balance your food budget and still serve the family interesting and appealing meals. Happiness is saving time and money while basking in the smiles of approval at dinnertime.

Two new recipes from the Test Kitchens of The R.T. French Company in Rochester, New York are designed to chase the gloom away.

Texas-Style Pizza looks like pizza but tastes like chili. The authentic Southwestern flavor is easily created with an envelope of seasoning mix for chili. Cornmeal and biscuit mix combine for a crust with a hint of difference.

Tossed green salad, ice cream for dessert, coffee or tea and milk complete a happy meal, Texas-style.

Happiness shapes up in a different new way with 30-Minute Meatloaf. This variation of the popular theme is baked in a shallow pan and served in squares instead of slices. A topping of melted cheese and prepared yellow mustard creates a cheeseburger taste.

Add a tossed green salad, hot rolls, frosted cupcakes, coffee, tea and milk to complete the menu.

TEXAS-STYLE PIZZA

- ½ pound ground beef
- 1 envelope (1¾ oz.) French's Chili-O Mix
- 1 can (1 lb.) tomatoes
- 1 can (1 lb.) kidney beans, drained and rinsed
- 1 package active dry yeast
- ¾ cup warm water
- 2¼ cups biscuit mix
- ½ cup cornmeal
- Shredded cheddar or American cheese

Cook beef in large skillet, stirring to crumble; pour off excess fat. Stir in contents of chili-o mix envelope, tomatoes, and beans; simmer, uncovered, 10 minutes. Sprinkle yeast over warm water in large mixing bowl; stir to dissolve. Add biscuit mix and cornmeal; stir until smooth. Knead 25 strokes on floured surface. Divide in half, roll or pat each to a 14-inch circle. Place on ungreased pizza pans or baking sheets. Spoon filling on top of crusts; sprinkle with cheese. Bake at 425 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes, until crust is golden brown. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

30-MINUTE MEATLOAF

- 1 egg
- 4 tablespoons yellow mustard
- 1½ cups soft bread crumbs
- 1 pound ground beef
- ¼ cup pasteurized process cheese spread, at room temperature
- 2 tablespoons mayonnaise

Combine egg, 3 tablespoons of the mustard, bread crumbs, and beef; pack lightly in 8-inch square or round pan. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes. Stir together until smooth cheese spread, mayonnaise, and remaining 1 tablespoon mustard; spread over meatloaf. Return to oven and bake 5 to 10 minutes longer. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Job placements

California's state employment offices made a total of 35,372 job placements in December. In the same month the previous year, the total was 33,361.

Total job placements made by the department in 1976 was 505,776. In 1975 the total was 488,535.

On Dec. 30, the department had an active file of 680,030 job applicants seeking work. The number of non-agricultural job openings on the same day totaled 30,365.

Education for seniors

Under the leadership of James Garvey, assistant superintendent, Glendora Adult School will sponsor a new series of adult education classes designed especially for senior citizens.

Beginning Feb. 12 at Glendora High School, room 410, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., the following classes will be offered: arts and crafts, knitting and crochet, sculpture in wood, senior exercise, and food preparation and nutrition. This class will include a hot lunch for 75 cents.

Residency in Glendora is not necessary for attendance in this program and all seniors from neighboring communities are welcome.

For further information on this and other Glendora Adult School classes, persons may call 963-1611 days or 963-1613 evenings.

To attend conference

Tima Williams, health-parent advisory specialist for Ontario-Montclair District, will attend the California School Nurses Organization annual conference in San Diego on Feb. 3-6.

Mrs. Williams, in addition to being health specialist for the District Parent Advisory Committee, is also state public relations chairman for the nurses organization.

Another Ontario-Montclair district employee, Everett Hilliard, assistant director of pupil personnel services, will also attend the conference.

School nurses from all over the state will meet in San Diego those four days to discuss ways to improve nursing services to school children.

Guest speakers will include Dr. Jonas Salk and actor Gregory Peck.

City employes honored

The Claremont City Council has honored another group of city employes for long years of service, and presented each with a service pin.

Honored were:

Troy Massey, 17 years, maintenance craftsman; Chuck Meyer, 17 years, park leadman; Bud Carls, 16 years, park leadman; Jess Martinez, 16 years, street sweeper operator; Phil Soto, 14 years, maintenance craftsman; Del Sukraw, 13 years, maintenance craftsman; Ed Cervantes, 12 years, groundsman; Ken Kalina, 11 years, maintenance craftsman; Ira Miller, 11 years, tree trimmer; and Earl Whitehair, 10 years, groundsman.

Adults only tours

The San Dimas Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor a series of "adults only" tours this winter and spring.

Registrations may be made now at the San Dimas City Hall for all trips. The bus trips will include such places as Solvang, Indio Date Festival, San Diego Memory Lane, Las Vegas, Farmers Market, Greek Church, Ojai Country Club, Lake Tahoe, Reno and Virginia City.

Persons wanting more information may phone San Dimas City Hall at 599-6713, ext. 41.

Prothesis for women

Prothesis for women who have had mastectomies will be displayed at the Pomona office of the American Cancer Society, 111 W. Center St., from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Thursday.

A volunteer will discuss the various types of prosthesis with women. The display is open to the public without charge.

St. Lucy's entrance exam

Entrance exams for incoming students at St. Lucy's Priory High School in Glendora will be given Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Applications for the school year starting in September may be obtained at the school office, 655 W. Sierra Madre Ave., Glendora.

Equestrian committee meets

The San Dimas Equestrian committee, an advisory group to the City Council on horse-related matters, invites all interested persons to meet with the committee Thursday, 7:30 p.m. at the Stanley Plummer Community Building.

The meeting has been called to discuss a planned trail network for horse riders in the city and to deal with specific questions residents might have concerning horse facilities and areas in San Dimas.

S.D. honors city employes

They are Frank Basile, director of public works; Warren Brehm, park maintenance foreman; Jesse Duff, recreation supervisor; Mark Goldberg, planning director; Garry Mann, public works foreman; A. Robert Rimpau, member of the Creative Growth Review Board; and Rosie Van Sickle, secretary.

Three employes honored for three years of service are Ruth Disney, Rose Farr and Mark Rheude.

Rotary Club program

Lou Rosen, principal at Bonita High School, will present the program, "Three Faces of Bonita," at the La Verne Rotary Club program Thursday noon at the Castaway Restaurant.

Students and the media specialist at Bonita have prepared a multi-media presentation dealing with three average students during an average day at the high school. This consists of simultaneous projection of speech, music and slides by three synchronized projectors.

Camera club program

The Pomona Valley Camera Club will present its unusual program Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the First Christian Church, Pomona.

Charles R. Osborne, a five-star winner in APSA, will show a slide program entitled "Island in the Sun." Taken with a stereo camera, the viewing requires stereo glasses. This gives a third dimension.

Osborne, a member of the stereo division of the San Bernardino Lens and Shutter Club, served as a judge of that section for the photographic section of the Los Angeles County Fair last year.

The San Bernardino Stereo group has sponsored several programs in the past for the Wind and Sun Council and also before the Photographic Society of America International Convention, in which Osborne acted as general director and master of ceremony.

To show his versatility in the photographic field, he presented a slide program taken with a 35 mm camera, of the underwater world which took six years to film.

Robert Jackson of the Pomona Valley Camera Club will present a program Friday at 7 p.m. at the Hillcrest Homes in La Verne.

He will use two projectors and a musical background in showing scenes of Alaska.

The BLAISDELL INSTITUTE is offering yoga and Chinese meditative exercise classes this month.

Two Hatha Yoga classes will start Monday at 10:30 and 11:55 a.m. Each class, with 12 sessions, will be taught by Mrs. Doris Martin, who has conducted yoga classes for the Clara Spring Studio and the cast of "Little House on the Prairie."

T'ai Chi Ch'uan classes will begin Tuesday and will continue for 12 weeks. T'ai Chi Ch'uan, the Chinese meditative exercise system, will be taught by Dan Lee, a senior student of the late Bruce Lee.

Course fee for yoga is $25, and fees for the Chinese exercise class are $24 for students and $48 for nonstudents. For further information persons may call the institute, 626-0521, weekday mornings.

A special course in the "Fundamentals of Toxicology" offered by CAL POLY POMONA'S Office of Continuing Education which begins Tuesday is approved by the Board of Registered Nurses for 30 hours of continuing education credit.

The program is designed for registered nurses and occupational health nurses, including those employed in the areas of manufacturing, banking, hospitals, utilities, government agencies, insurance companies, retail stores and educational facilities.

The course is a basic introduction to toxicology with consideration given to the effects of toxic exposures on each system.

Margaret Hornyack, environmental health and safety officer at Cal Poly, will instruct the class which meets Tuesdays from 7 to 10 p.m., Feb. 8 through April 12 at Cal Poly, Building 9, room 133. The fee is $60. Registrations will be accepted at the first class meeting. For further information call the Office of Continuing Education 598-4391.

Life Planning for Women, a class designed to meet the needs of women considering entering college or the work force, will be offered by the LA VERNE COLLEGE accelerated program for adults, beginning Feb. 9, from 10 a.m. to noon, in Founders Hall.

The class will help women with decision making and identification of skills, interests, and personality needs. It will also focus on the current status of women.

Maggi Wargin, a Claremont counselor, will teach the class. Registration is being taken now. This course is offered at a reduced tuition fee and will run for 10 weeks. For information on how to register, call 593-3511.

All six of the CLAREMONT COLLEGES have received grants from the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

J.S. Ambrose, manager of the Sears, Roebuck store in Pomona, made the presentations on behalf of the foundation. The beneficiaries are Claremont Graduate School, Claremont Men's College, Harvey Mudd College, Pitzer College, Pomona College, Scripps College and the central coordinating institution of the six, Claremont University Center.

The grants were part of $91,750 which the foundation distributed to 43 privately supported colleges and universities in California.

Registration for both day and evening students at CITRUS COLLEGE is still open.

Day students may enroll through Friday from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 to 3 p.m. at the admissions office in the Administration Building.

Evening students will have the opportunity to register through Thursday in the auditorium, from 6 to 8 p.m., and again on Saturdayin the admissions office from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Classes begin Monday.

"Some classes are closed," said Donald Madsen, vice president, "But many of those classes offer more than one section, so late registrants may still be able to enroll for the course of their choice." Appointment to register cards are not necessary for late registration.

For more information, persons may call 599-8339.

DAVE FARRIS

YMCA's new health, P.E. director aired

Dave Farris has been named the new health and physical education director for the Pomona Valley YMCA's central branch in Pomona.

Farris replaces Dennis Palmer, who now holds a similar post in La Canada.

A graduate of West Texas State University, Farris has worked with the YMCA for three years and was previously assigned in Antelope Valley.

He holds national certifications, including YMCA fitness specialist, advanced fitness specialist, instructor to Y's Way to Slim Living, Y's Way to Healthy Back, and Y's Way to Ski Fitness, and the YMCA leadership certificate.

Farris and his wife, Mary, and daughter, Kathy, reside in Pomona.

Olson named chief of staff at Doctors

Dr. John E. Olson Jr. has been named chief of staff at Doctors Hospital of Montclair for 1977. He replaces Dr. Gilbert Martinez.

Dr. Olson is in family practice in the Montclair Medical Square in association with Dr. Emery L. White.

The new head of staff is a 1952 graduate of Northwestern University Medical School. He completed a two-year residency at Riverside County Hospital.

Dr. Olson is a member of the San Bernardino County Medical Society, California Medical Association and the American Medical Association. He is also a member of the American Academy of Family Physicians, a Diplomat of the American Board of Family Practice and on the board of the San Bernardino Foundation for Professional Standards and Review Organization.

Judge Kenneth Ziebarth Jr. will assume the duties of chairman of the hospital governing board for the fiscal year 1977-78. He will replace Dr. William Filler Jr.

Damien (9-0) rallies again

By MIKE BROSSART
PB Staff Writer

Damien High's basketball team is in a rut.

The Spartans almost always trail their opponents through a large portion of the fourth quarter. But they never trail when the game's over.

Down by six points with five and a half minutes to play, Damien spurted past Upland with 2:30 left and went on to best the Highlanders, 70-65, Tuesday afternoon in the Spartans' gym.

For the third game in a row, Damien (12-6 on the year) was behind when the fourth quarter began. It was the fifth time in their last six contests that the Spartans have trailed at some point in the final period.

"The players told me they weren't going to do that again," said Damien coach Bill Roberts, shaking his head. "They said they wouldn't have to come from behind."

But since the Spartans have won all nine of their San Antonio League games, Roberts can't really complain that they always have to make a comeback.

"I think its something about the kind of kids who go to this school," he continued. "They really stick together and work hard when they're down."

Damien star Bill Duffy is in something of a rut himself. He scored 36 points Tuesday for the second game in a row.

He made 15 of 21 field goal attempts (71.4 per cent) cent), including six of seven in the third quarter and four of five in the fourth.

Duffy was also the game's leading rebounder with 14 — eight more than Upland's John Scheerer, the No. 2 rebounder, had. Damien held a large 39-25 advantage on the boards.

All five Highlander starters scored in double figures, but their balance was to no avail against Duffy's 36 points and Simon Bleeker's 15 for the Spartans.

Upland's Steve Davenport, Brian Patterson, Scheerer, Steve Hanson and Brad Todd scored 16, 13, 12, 11 and 10 points, respectively.

The Highlanders (4-5 in SAL play, 14-8 on the year) entered the fourth quarter with a 47-44 lead, which they stretched to six points (56-50) with 5:36 remaining when Kent Byer made one free throw and missed his second, but teammate Todd grabbed the rebound and scored two points.

Upland was still leading, 60-55, when Damien's press resulted in three quick Highlander turnovers and a 61-60 lead for the Spartans.

A free throw by Davenport tied the game at 61-61, but Damien's Ralf Paspal hit a hook shot with 2:30 left to put the Spartans ahead for good.

Duffy and and teammate Scott Strohman each hit one of two free throws and Damien had a 66-61 lead with less than a minute to play.

Upland scored five straight points for a 13-8 lead after the first quarter, but Damien scored six in a row to open the second period. The lead changed hands eight times in the second quarter before the two teams settled for a 28-28 tie at the intermission.

The Scots led throughout the third quarter, by as much as five points.

Damien shot 54 per cent (28 of 52) from the floor to Upland's 48 per cent (26 of 54).

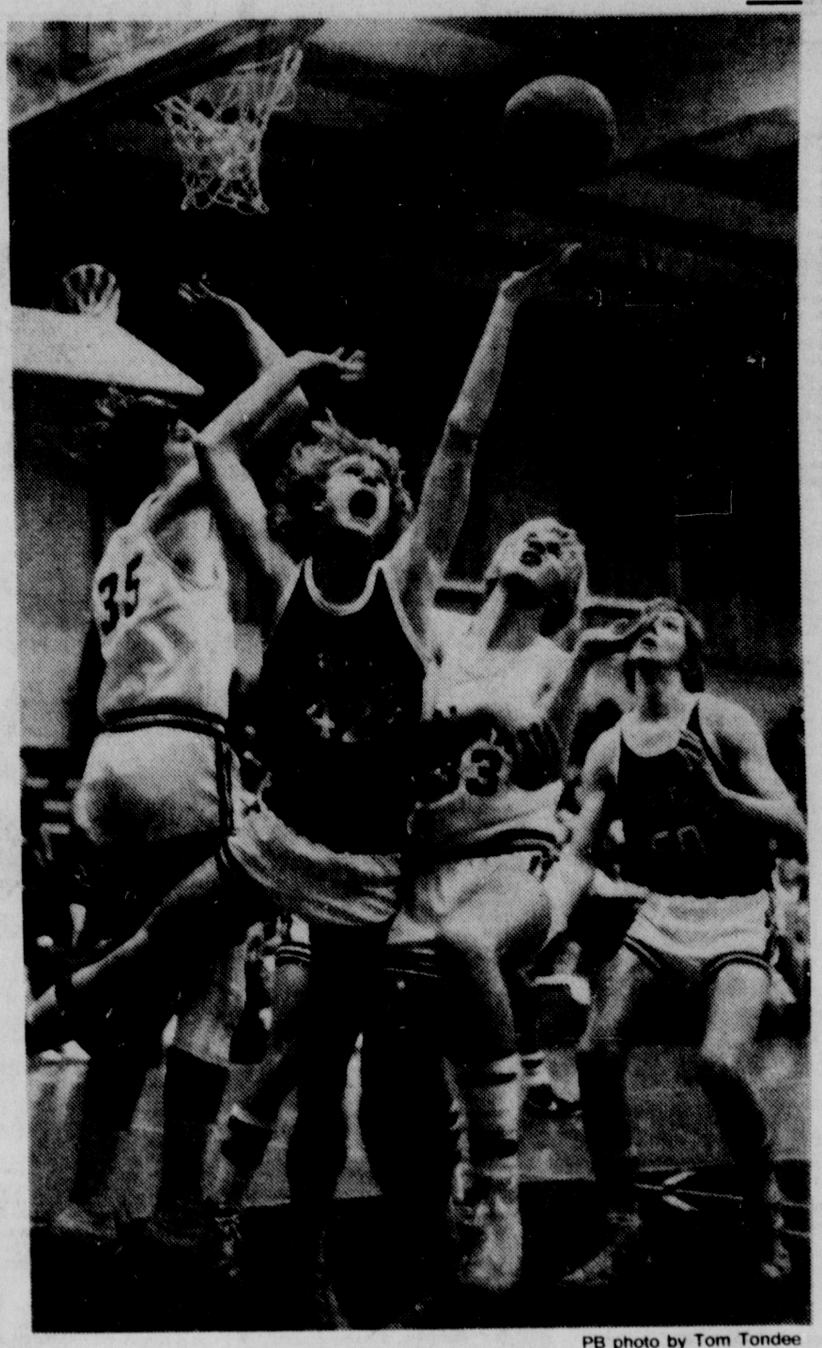

The Spartans, the sixth-ranked team in the latest CIF 3A poll, will visit Chino Friday night while Upland travels to Ganesha.

Ganesha rests on early blitz

By TIM CLARK
PB Correspondent

Ganesha High sleep-walked its way through another San Antonio League victory Tuesday night at Claremont's 'Pack Pavillion, snoozing by the now hapless Wolfpack, 65-52.

One thought after seeing the Giants play like the Philadelphia 76'ers in a 23-8 first quarter blitz, that a real nice show was in store for the rest of the evening. Not so.

Like they have done so many times this year, Ganesha decided to rest on their early-going laurels for the remainder of the game. If it wasn't for the consistently spirited play of guards Steve Polee and James Dowe and forward James Verdon, who knows what the outcome of the night would have been.

Polee was always on the move at both ends of the court, passing off for a game-high eight assists and totaling a game-high six steals.

Dowe enjoyed his best game of his young (junior) career, canning nine of 13 field goal attempts in route to 23 points (his previous career-high was 16).

The very smooth operating Verdon had an off-shooting night (8-20), but still managed to gather 19 points, 15 rebounds, seven assists and four steals.

Gary Fulkerson's Giants just weren't that impressive against a disorganized Claremont team that could have really been clobbered. In fact, Claremont was still in the hunt at halftime (down 32-25), and outscored the Giants 27-23 through the second and third periods.

Claremont center Derek Britton victorously challenged George Hawthorne, Ganesha's 6-10 postman, outscoring the giant 20 to 8, outrebounding him 17 to 12, and outshooting him from the field, 8-17 to 4-11.

Garey rolls up 98-84 victory

By MARK GRIP
PB Correspondent

Garey High coach Mike Wells summed up Tuesday's game with Pomona as "a wild one".

Wells' Vikings out-dueled their cross-town rivals 98-84 in a high-scoring game on the winners' home court.

SAL

	League W	L	Pct.	Overall W	L
Damien	9	0	1.000	12	6
Ganesha	8	1	.888	18	4
Garey	7	2	.777	13	6

Claremont	1	8	.111	10	11
Pomona	0	9	.000	2	15

Tuesday's results
Garey 98, Pomona 84
Damien 70, Upland 65
Ganesha 65, Claremont 52
Montclair 63, Chino 49

Friday's games
Damien at Chino, 8 p.m.
Claremont at Garey, 8 p.m.
Upland at Ganesha, 8 p.m.
Montclair at Pomona, 8 p.m.

The win enables Garey to remain in third place in the San Antonio League at 7-2. Damien (9-0) and Ganesha (8-1) along with Garey are now far out in front of the rest of the league teams.

Garey is almost assured of a playoff spot in the 3A Division since the fourth and fifth place teams (Upland and Montclair) are only 4-5 in SAL action. It is probable that the CIF will accept three teams from the SAL for playoff action.

Garey's only two losses in league have come to the top two teams. In a little over a week from now the Vikings will have back-to-back rematches with Damien and Ganesha. This time the Vikings will play both those games at home.

Wells commented on his team's playoff hopes: "We're in the drivers seat and I feel we can beat the two top teams if we can play good ball. "Some games we don't score much, but we don't give up much" continued the Viking mentor." Tonight we scored a lot, but we gave up a lot also".

Garey scored a lot and just missed hitting triple-figures (100 points) by one field goal.

James Lofton led the Viking barage with 29 points before he fouled out with 2:05 left in the game. The six-foot-seven center also blocked two shots and grabbed seven rebounds.

Lofton's teammate Herbi Banks was next with 24 points followed by Devil Frank Haynes with 21 points and three blocked shots.

Leading rebounder for the game was Viking Craig "Bird" Synder with 11. Snyder retrieved 10 of those caroms in the first half.

Both teams played like rivals for the first quarter exploding for 24 points each. Garey poured in 30 points in the second stanza to hold a 54-44 advatage at halftime.

In the third and final periods Garey remained on top by at least eight points and finished each period up by 14.

Garey's bid for 100 points looked good when it led 89-81 with two minutes left in the game. The Vikings went into their four-corner offense and still managed to score nine points.

When action resumes Friday Garey will host Claremont and Pomona will host Montclair. Both games start at 8 p.m.

NBC purchases Olympics rights

MOSCOW (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co., culminating lengthy negotiations which went down to the final hours, has won the United States television rights for the 1980 Summer Olympics.

The network purchased the rights for an estimated $80 million—a figure which includes $35 million for the rights and the rest for technical facilities.

The contract was signed Tuesday and approved by the International Olympic Committee.

"We are delighted to have been successful in arranging to bring to American audiences the 1980 Olympics in Moscow and the American participation in this international event of the first magnitude," said NBC President Herb Schlosser in a statement issued in New York.

"NBC will mount a production effort which in terms of people, facilities and air time will reflect this importance to the viewing public."

Schlosser said details of the contract and production plans will be disclosed at a news conference in the near future.

The awarding of the rights climaxed lengthy negotiations which, at one point, involved four entries—the three major networks and the Satra Corp. CBS dropped out of the bidding last week, saying the venture appeared risky. And Satra, a New York-based international trading company, apparently was excluded by the IOC. IOC financial secretary Monique Berlioux, who was present for the signing, said the Committee "thought it was better to have a real television organization."

Satra, in a statement issued in New York, by company chairman Ara Oztemel, said it had signed a "letter of intent" with the Russians and threatened legal action against NBC and its parent organization, RCA, if the agreement went through. After NBC offically signed the contract, Satra officials said their lawyers planned to take the network to court and seek damages.

NBC announced it had won the rights Sunday night, but an ABC delegation, headed by Roone Arledge, president of ABC Sports, kept up negotiations through Tuesday.

When NBC finally had signed a binding agreement with the Russians, Arledge said: "It is an awesome undertaking, and I wish them the best of luck."

In New York, ABC Sports President Frederick Pierce issued a statement saying that the network's negotiators went to Moscow with a competitive bid to seek clarification of Soviet intentions and were told upon arrival that an agreement already had been reached with NBC.

"We deeply regret that the American viewing public will be deprived of the experience and expertise gained by ABC Sports in televising six of the last seven Games."

Robert Howard, president of NBC Sports, signed for the network and Ignaty Novikov, chairman of the Soviet Olympic Organizing Committee, signed for the Russians. Novikov became confused during his remarks and twice congratulated "ABC." He was quickly corrected by officials around him.

ABC has televised seven Olympic Games, including the last three. NBC's previous experience consists of the 1964 Summer Games in Tokyo and the 1972 Winter Games in Sapporo, Japan. ABC paid $25 million to televise the Montreal Olympics.

Track fans get excited

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Steve Williams makes his 1977 debut and track fans are excited over the possibility of John Walker meeting Filbert Bayi in the mile at this Friday night's Times Indoor Games track meet.

Williams failed to make the U.S. Olympic team when injuries struck down perhaps America's greatest sprinter. But with Williams' entry form signed for this meet, organizers are having a problem: who will run and who won't.

Scheduled to run in the 60-yard dash are Don Quarrie, the world's top sprinter last year; Hasley Crawford, the Olympic 100-meter dash gold medal winner; unbeaten Steve Riddick; flashy Houston McTear and James Gilkes of Guyana, who was prevented from running in the Olympics by a black African nation boycott.

That's six top sprinters, and there are only five lanes. "If you have any suggestions on what we do about this, let me know," said meet director Will Kern.

Kern, meanwhile, was busy trying to arrange a meeting between Walker, the world mile record holder, and Bayi, the former record holder. The problem for the past year has been that same black African disenchantment with Walker's native land, New Zealand.

Tanzania, Bayi's country, one year ago began a boycott of New Zealand because it had recognized — athletically — South Africa. That boycott short-circuited many scheduled confrontations between the top two middle-distance runners in the world, including one at the Olympics, where Walker easily won the 1,500-meter gold medal in Bayi's absence.

Now, however, Kern has read reports that the boycott by Tanzania is over. So he has asked the Amateur Athletic Union "to take the matter up, and they have contacted the Supreme Council for Sport In Africa," said Kern.

"Our meet was on Bayi's original schedule for his tour of the United States, so we're hopeful." Bayi held the previous world mile mark outdoors of 3:51.0, which Walker shattered with his 3:49.4 before his Olympic conquest.

Graham Davy, head of the New Zealand AAU, said Walker's recent appendicitis surgery took a lot out of the Olympic champion.

"In his first few races after surgery," said Davy, "he was running 3:42 (for 1,500 meters), but in his last race before coming here, he ran 3:38." That's equivalent to a mile in about 3:56.

"I'm saying this to the other people in that mile: watch out for John Walker. He's going to be in pretty good form for that one."

Shooting for the world indoor mile record of 3:55.0 will be a host of top milers, including four sub-four-minute men: Steve Scott, Paul Cummings, Eamonn Coghlan and Graham Crouch.

If Bayi should wind up in that field, the personal fued between he and Walker may have to take a back seat to a new world record.

Goodrich not sure he'll play

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gail Goodrich, the five-time National Basketball Association allstar guard now with the New Orleans Jazz, says he isn't sure if he'll be able to play again following Achilles tendon surgery.

But even at that, he says his prospects for a continued basketball career are better than they were.

Goodrich, now with his right leg in a cast following the corrective surgery, played last season and the early part of this one in pain.

The 6-foot-1 former UCLA guard was in agony — from the foot and from the knowledge that age was taking its toll.

"I knew I wouldn't play again if I ruptured it," said Goodrich, now 33. "And that, combined with not playing as much as I'd like, was tough mentally. Very tough.

"I started thinking, 'Maybe I'm not the player I used to be.' It was so different, wondering whether I still had it. I mean, I didn't think I could lose it all in six months, but after a while I didn't know what to think.

"Now I guess I was subconsciously holding back, because of the fear. It was very frustrating."

The natural wear and tear of basketball made the injury untreatable without surgery, so last Friday Dr. Frank Jobe operated and declared the surgery a success. He said Goodrich will be ready to play the 1977-78 basketball season if his recovery goes according to plan.

Incredible Lakers jump to first place

By DON BRADLEY
PB Staff Writer

INGLEWOOD — Will the Lakers be the third team in three years to come from nowhere and stun the NBA?

Two seasons ago, the Golden State Warriors did it and won the championship. Last year the Phoenix Suns eliminated the Warriors in the playoffs and nearly won the title.

Tuesday night's 136-115 victory over the visiting Milwaukee Bucks accomplished a number of things for the incredible Lakers.

It marked their 20th straight win at the Forum. It was their seventh victory in eight games and they have now won 11 of the last 13 and 21 of their last 26.

They are back in first place in the Pacific Division by six percentage points over Portland.

And, last but certainly not least, their 33-16 record and .673 percentage is the second best in the NBA. Denver, 32-15 (.681) is eight percentage points better.

It's really too early to talk about a championship, but whatever happens from here on out, Jerry West has already created a miracle at Manchester and Prairie Avenue in obscure Inglewood.

What he has accomplished with Kareem Abdul Jabbar and a supporting cast composed of rejects, rookies and remnants of last year's forgettable flops (40 wins, 42 losses) is nothing short of a miracle.

Jabbar, who is playing less and enjoying it more this year had an average Jabbar game. Super. The giant center played the most minutes (naturally), 36, grabbed 14 rebounds, had four assists, two steals and two blocked shots.

But West's "super subs" should get equal billing. West used all 12 players and everybody scored. The starters, aided by Jabbar's 34, scored 74 points and the subs 62.

In the last six games, the starters have averaged 63 points and the super subs 54.5.

Obviously the reserves are getting a lot of playing time. The other four starters logged the following: Cazzie Russell 24 minutes and 17 points, Lucius Allen 28 minutes and 16 points, Don Chaney 31 minutes and three points (with six assists), and Don Ford 18 minutes and four points.

Kermit Washington, top man on "the second unit" as the super subs call themselves, logged 28 minutes, scored 18 points and grabbed 13 rebounds.

It was the 6-8, 230-pound Washington and the veteran Russell, two of the "remnants" generally overlooked last year, who helped the Angelenos break the game open in the third quarter.

Washington scored 10 points and pulled down five rebounds in exactly 5:58 of playing time!

The Lakers had two spurts, outscoring the Bucks, 12-2 in 3:43 of the middle of the quarter. Russell had seven of the 12 points in that stretch.

In the last 3:23 of the period, Washington led an 8-2 spurt with six points that helped give the Angelenos a 97-81 lead.

Logs of the other super subs look like this: Rookie Tom Abernathy played 24 minutes, scored 12 points, added five boards and six assists. Rookie Earl Tatum played 20 minutes, scored 14 points, had five rebounds, three steals, two assists and a blocked shot.

Johnny Neumann logged 15 minutes, scored four points and had four assists. Reserve center C.J. Kupec played 12 minutes and scored 10 points.

The number 11 and 12 men, Bo Lamar and Marv Roberts each played two minutes and scored two points.

"I like making mass substitutions because I like the same guys playing together," says West. "We've been lucky because someone has picked us up each time."

And that's the way the Lakers are winning. Everybody plays. Everybody contributes. Everybody is happy. It's a new thing in the NBA. It's T-E-A-M basketball.

Clubs like Philadelphia, Denver, Boston and the New York Knicks have far superior players overall with the exception of Jabbar.

But the Lakers had Jabbar last year, also Russell, Allen, Ford, Washington and Kupec. But they weren't a TEAM.

LAKER LEFTOVERS — West takes his crew on a four-game, eight-day road trip after a day off today. Two games, Boston (Friday) and the Knicks (next Tuesday) will be on TV. The other games are in Philadelphia (Sunday) and Buffalo (Wed.).

Milwaukee coach Don Nelson will stay over and scout UCLA's Marques Johnson Thursday night. The Bucks have three first-round draft choices this year.

Turner sets CIF record

Calvary Baptist's Robert Turner set a CIF rebounding record Tuesday night in the Cougars' 68-29 win over visiting Victor Valley Christian.

Turner, 1 6-foot-2 sophomore center, pulled down 47 rebounds to break by nine the record set by El Segundo's John Pleick in 1966.

Turner also scored 45 points to lead Calvary Baptist (5-3 in the Christian League, 5-4 overall) to the lopsided victory.

In other prep games Tuesday night, Ontario Christian knocked off Whittier Christian, 60-47, and American Christian nipped Inland Christian, 55-54, but Chaffey lost to Redlands, 64-47, Lutheran La Verne fell to Big Bear, 54-52, and Webb lost at Aquinas, 63-48.

Hank Bouwman led Ontario Christian's effort with 18 points, 17 rebounds and eight steals while Pete Verhoeven added 15 points and 15 rebounds and Jim Berkompas chipped in with 10 points. The Knights (8-1, 15-4) took an early lead and held it.

American Christian's Terry Balliet scored 28 points and teammate Donny Cameron 12 in the Minutemen's close victory. ACA trailed 32-23 at the half but passed Inland with 5:30 left to play. The Minutemen are now 8-2 in Christian League action, 10-8 overall.

Chaffey's Randy Wenzel scored 14 points and grabbed 10 rebounds and Randy Johnston added 12 points as the Tigers were outmuscled by Redlands.

Redlands center Steve Johnson scored 27 points. He scored 10 in the first quarter when the Terriers jumped to a 21-11 lead and 12 in the third quarter when they outscored the Tigers, 20-11.

Chaffey (5-5 in the Citrus Belt League, 7-12 overall) committed 23 turnovers.

Gregg Guenther scored 18 points as Lutheran (5-7 in Arrowhead League play, 9-10 overall) lost to Big Bear and Webb's Kerry Tims scored 15 in the Gauls' loss.

Broncos win mat match

The Cal Poly wrestling team posted a 39-7 win over visiting Cal State Los Angeles Tuesday, in the CCAA conference opener for both teams.

Scoring pins for the Bronco wrestlers were Gary Carwile (130 pounds), Ray Bumpus (150 pounds) and Willie Clark (167 pounds). Also winning matches for the Broncs were John Adams, Rudy Polanco, Frank Sulick and Robert Miller.

The Bronco matmen will next see action Saturday at the Biola Invitational Tourney in La Mirada.

Cavaliers crush Cowboys, 63-49

By TONY ROBBINS
PB Correspondent

The Montclair High Cavaliers crushed the Chino High Cowboys, outscoring them by 10 points in the fourth quarter, to take an impressive 63-49 win Wednesday afternoon at Montclair.

The Cavaliers quickly jumped ahead in the first quarter to take a commanding 17-8 lead, and from then on they dominated the game, leaving little doubt as to who the eventual victors would be.

The closest the Cowboys of Chino ever came to catching Montclair came late in the third quarter, when Barry Higgins, Roger Hairston and Gene Campbell rallied the Cowboys back from a 10-point deficit to pull them within four.

Montclair then threw the ball away and Campbell began to work on Cavalier center Bruce LaVallee. However, Campbell missed a hook shot as the buzzer sounded ended the third quarter, and Chino could never come closer.

Montclair took quick advantage in the fourth quarter to bury Chino by 14 points.

The big difference in the game was in the shooting percentages. Although Chino took 10 more shots from the field than the Cavaliers, Montclair scored six more field goals. Montclair made 28 of 42 shots for 66 percent, while Chino only scored 21 of 52 for 40 percent.

Montclair also outrebounded the Cowboys, pulling down 38 caroms as opposed to Chino's 25.

Darrin Pierce, who had his usual outstanding game, scored 17 points. He also teamed up with Mike D'Agostino to make six steals and spark the Cavs' offense.

Cav center LaVallee was unable to get started in the first three quarters of the game, but he became one of the deciding factors in the fourth quarter when he scored eight of his 10 points.

"I'm really pleased with the overall team performance," explained Montclair coach Lanny Moore. "I think all the guys pitched together to bring about a good all-around performance. LaVallee was just coming off a fantastic performance and it was hard for him to stay up and get started in the first half tonight. Once he does get started though, there's no stopping him!"

Broncos seek better offense

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Broncos of the National Football League hired a man they felt could restore discipline, dissolve dissension and generate some offense when they named Robert "Red" Miller as head coach.

Miller, 49, became the Broncos' eighth head coach Tuesday. The former New England Patriots' offensive coordinator signed a three-year contract, terms of which were not disclosed.

"Red Miller is probably one of the three top coaches in the NFL as far as offensive football is concerned," said Broncos General Manager Fred Gehrke. "His credentials are outstanding, and we feel he is the strong type of coach who can put together a championship program."

Miller succeeds John Ralston, who resigned Monday. Ralston had promised to lead Denver to the Super Bowl, but he failed to deliver even a playoff berth in five seasons.

Last December, after Ralston was relieved of his general manager duties but was retained as coach, 22 players called for his ouster, saying his easy-going leadership could not produce a championship.

Haunted by broken promises and the festering player revolt, Ralston departed as the winningest coach in Broncos history with a 34-33-3 record.

Ironically, it was Miller who might have paved the way for Ralston's departure. Miller's finely tuned New England offensive machine crushed the Broncos 38-14 in the 12th game of the season, eliminating Denver from playoff contention.

Unlike Ralston, Miller has made no bold predictions.

"I have no timetable. I want to win, period," he said at a news conference Tuesday. "I'm not going to say we'll be in a certain position in three years. I can only say that we'll be a well-drilled, disciplined team on the field."

Miller said such dissension as plagued Ralston in his final season was "foreign" to him. "I think we're going to have players wanting to play for us," he said.

An NFL assistant coach for 17 years including a stint in the early 1960s at Denver, Miller categorized himself as a coach "who wants to get the job done, and if it takes discipline to achieve a well-drilled team, we'll have it."

Miller said he assessed the Broncos as "a good team which, with the addition of a few players at the right spots, can become an outstanding team."

"I think I'm fortunate to step into a winning situation like this," he said, referring to Denver's 9-5 record last season, the best in its history. "Coaches usually face a situation where they have to build from the ground up."

At New England, Miller— whose expertise is the offensive line—had a reputation for innovation and for adapting his offense to suit his personnel.

Mac Speedie, a former Broncos head coach and now a scout, was among those who praised the selection of Miller. "He's probably got the best football mind of anyone I have been connected with since I've been in football," Speedie said. "And he has great rapport with players."

Watson is gate attraction

HONOLULU (AP) — There are some brand-new additions to the swelling corps of Tom Watson well-wishers.

He's rapidly becoming one of the game's great drawing cards. His small-boy appearance—red hair and freckles— the sense of joy he communicates to the gallery, his snowballing success have made him perhaps the most popular of game's young stars.

They sell them.

They're the sponsors of next week's Bob Hope Desert Classic. No one is pulling harder for Watson to score a third consecutive triumph this week in the Hawaiian Open. Their rooting interest is very understandable.

If he wins again, he'll play in the Hope.

If he doesn't win the Hawaiian Open, he'll skip the Hope.

"Originally, I hadn't planned on playing the Hope," said Watson, who has finished fourth, first and first in his last three starts—Tucson, the Bing Crosby and San Diego.

"But as long as I'm winning, I'll keep on playing. I'll ride the wave as long as it lasts. And the wave is still rolling along, a big ol' 25-footer."

And while Watson hasn't won in Hawaii, he's played very, very well on the palm-studded, 7,217-yard, par-72 Waialae Country Club course, site of the $240,000 event that gets underway Thursday.

He first attracted national attention in the televised 1973 Hawaiian Open when he led through the first three days then blew to a 75 in the last round and finished third. The happy Hawaiians immediately made him their own and, ever since, have called him "The Kid."

He finished ninth the next year, 14th the next and had a spot among the leaders until shooting a third-round 77 last season.

"One bad round has kept me out a couple of times in Hawaii," he said. It was just such an occurance—one bad round, sometimes one bad hole—that kept him away from a number of earlier victories. That situation—his unfortunate habit of catching a double bogey at precisely the wrong time—has been corrected in his recent string.

His opposition is formidable.

Jack Nicklaus made a late entry. Johnny Miller is playing for the first time in several seasons. Ben Crenshaw is the defending champ. Hale Irwin is on hand. Arnold Palmer is trying it again. PGA titleholder Dave Stockton is in the field.

Among the other standouts in the chase for a $48,000 first prize are J.C. Snead and veterans Billy Casper, Gene Littler, Miller Barber and Don January.

Portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally by ABC-TV.

WAC will expand

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The presidents of Western Athletic Conference schools agreed Tuesday night to expand the league and to free the University of Arizona and Arizona State University from contractural commitments as soon as possible.

The two Arizona schools have been admitted to the Pacific-8 Conference.

The six remaining WAC presidents — of Utah, Brigham Young, New Mexico, Wyoming, Texas-El Paso, and Colorado State — said procedures and criteria for the expansion would be developed and announced within the next few days by conference Commissioner Stan Bates.

The WAC presidents reiterated the two Arizona schools had legal and ethical commitments to honor their obligations to the conference universities until released by mutual agreement.

P-P women make finals

SANTA BARBARA — Five Pomona-Pitzer women swimmers qualified for the national small college pool finals here Saturday afternoon.

The P-P 200-yard medley relay team of Penny Dean, Sandy Provost, Nancy Opel and Nancy Parsons qualified, as did the 400-yard freestyle relay unit of Dean, Provost, Parsons and Nancy Smith.

Also qualifing in individual events was Dean in the 200 and 500-yard freestyle events and Smith in the 200-yard individual medley.

The Nationals will be held March 10-12 in Pa.

DB Pop Warner tabs new board

New officers have been announced for the 1977 season of Diamond Bar Pop Warner youth football.

The new board of directors consists of Barry Scott, president; Sandra Guy, vice president and secretary; Gary New, vice president and operations; Russ Egbert, treasurer; Mike Guy, finance; Bill Hale, publicity; Bud Nolte, fund raising; Frank Gabriel, field maintenance; Floyd Youmans, purchasing; and Ken Schaffer, field maintenance.

It was also announced that the first signup date for the 1977 D.B. Pop Warner season will be April 11 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Diamond Bar Country Club.

For further information on the league, call Scott at 595-9782 or Egbert at 595-8021 or Hale at 598-6426.

Sports briefs

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton has indicated he might quit after 16 years in the National Football League, but the general manager of the Vikings predicts that his scrambling quarterback will be back next season.

General Manager Mike Lynn said Tuesday he expected the 37-year-old Tarkenton would play out the remaining two years on his contract.

"I'm sure Francis will play out his contract, barring any serious injury," said Lynn.

"When I signed him last year, I asked him how many more years he wanted to play and he said three," continued Lynn. "I don't expect him to go back on his word and I think he'll be back to play football for the Minnesota Vikings."

Tarkenton said a knee bruise suffered in the playoffs against Washington still was bothering him and that he was worried about the possibility of surgery.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Three starters and two reserves have quit San Francisco State's basketball team, apparently over a communications problem with Coach Lyle Damon.

Starting guards John Sanderson and Daryl Burns and 6-foot-11 center Rip Walker left after the Far Western Conference opener Jan. 8, joined by reserve forwards Jerry Weems and Lance Brooks.

Walker said he had difficulty talking with Damon but might return to the team next year.

Burns said Damon "tried to keep everybody happy by giving them playing time. And you don't win games like that. You have to go with the guys who are playing the best for you."

Damon said, "Everybody thought they should be starting and since there are no dominant players there is a constant competition for jobs. We had two cliques and they were fighting each other so hard for playing time, they weren't focusing on the opposition. What happened was that one clique left and the other one stayed on to play."

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas World Speedway (TWS) offidals announced a four-race 1977 schedule Tuesday that includes a 200-mile Indy car race April 2 and the annual Texas 500 on June 5.

TWS President R.C. Conole said the schedule also will include a 200-mile U.S. Auto Club (USAC) stock car race July 31 and the Texas 1000 kilometers (620 miles) on Dec. 3.

The April 2 race will serve as a tune-up for the Indianapolis 500, Conole said, and could be one of the fastest races ever run becauseof changes in engine restrictions.

Indy cars will be allowed to run this year with no boost restrictions and speeds of 220 miles per hour are possible, Conole said.

Both the Texas 500 and Texas 1000 will be stock car races.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — The State Supreme Court, in a ruling that will force the University of Oklahoma to cut its football coaching staff, today upheld the National Collegiate Athletic Association's power to enact regulations governing activities of its member schools.

The high court, in a 6-3 ruling, said the NCAA rule that limits the number of full-time assistant football coaches to eight is not a restraint of trade.

The court's ruling overturned a lower court injunction that prevented the NCAA from enforcing the rule.

DETROIT (AP) — A two-alarm fire swept through the third-deck press box section of Tiger Stadium Tuesday night.

The fire was confined to the press box in the southwest corner of the stadium, home of baseball's Detroit Tigers.

Tigers' officials said the fire would not prevent the club from playing the 1977 season at the stadium.

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Nets traded their leading scorer, guard John Williamson, to the Indiana Pacers Tuesday night in exchange for the Pacers' No. 1 pick in the 1977 collegiate draft plus future considerations.

The deal was completed less than an hour prior to the National Basketball Association's trading deadline of midnight, Feb. 1.

Williamson, a rugged 6-foot-2, 195-pounder from New Mexico State, has averaged 20.8 points in 42 games this season, with a high of 37 against Houston.

SEATTLE — Unseeded Rosie Casals of Sausalito, Calif. upset fourth-seeded Wendy Turnbull of Australia 6-4, 6-4 in a first-round match in a $100,000 women's professional tennis tournament.

RICHMOND, Va. — Second-seeded Ilie Nastase of Romania trounced Cliff Drysdale of South Africa 6-2, 6-3 in the opening round of the Richmond Tennis Classic.

JOHNNY WONDER

Many people in Scotland claim that a huge serpent lurks in the murky depths of a big lake called Loch Ness.

This monster, known as the Loch Ness Monster, has been described as a creature about 30 feet long with a long neck ending in a tiny head.

Reports of a sea monster trapped in the lake go back hundreds of years. But until quite recently, very few people believed that such a monster existed.

Since the 1930s, the Loch Ness Monster has been seen and described by several thousand people. Although scientists who have gone there have not yet located it, many people are convinced that a large creature of some kind does live in Loch Ness.

PEANUTS

TO RUSSIA WITH LOVE — Barbra Streisand presents a documentary film on the making of her movie, "A Star is Born," to Marianna Shaternokova, a teacher at the Soviet Union's Research Institute of Theory and History of Cinema Art. Miss Shaternokova is in the United States under an American Film Institute exchange program sponsored by Miss Streisand.

Pitzer slated for TV

Three aspects of the Pitzer College curriculum will be featured on the KNBC television show, On Campus, at 9 a.m. Feb 20. George Fenneman is host.

Harold Pinter's play, "The Lovers," is being adapted for American audiences at Pitzer College by two students, Sandra Hansberger and David Barr. The problems of such an ambitious project are discussed as Fenneman visits a rehearsal and talks with the student directors.

Co-host Stacie Hunt discovers the how and why of childhood arguments from Don Brennis, assistant professor of anthropology and Ron Macauly, professor of linguistics. Miss Hunt also talks with two students enrolled in the Cross-Cultural Research program.

The history, ecology, art, and philosophy of the desert are examined as Fenneman talks with Pitzer professor Paul Shepard and two students about a recent trip to the deserts of Baja California.

NEW VOICES, THE OLD SONGS — The 139th Street Quartet, Far Western District champions of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, will star in the annual show of the Pomona chapter. The musical revue will be presented in Spring Auditorium, Ontario, at 8 p.m. Feb. 18 and 19. Tickets at $4 and $3 can be reserved by calling 982-9583.

Symphony sets school concert

Some 5,000 fourth and fifth grade students from 15 communities will attend the annual Children's Concert of the West End Symphony Orchestra in Spring Auditorium, Ontario, at 9:30 and 10:15 a.m. Feb. 10.

A program built on the theme of "Music and the Dance" is being arranged by conductor Keith Moon. In the meantime, classroom teachers are introducing the youngsters to the theme by means of a 25-minute tape recording made by Nancy and Hardin Brothers of Upland. Subject matter includes classical and modern ballet, waltz, march, polka and a Navajo chant.

Mrs. Marjorie Bundgard of Ontario is coordinating preparations with school officials who are treating the concert as a field trip and providing bus transportation. Free to the pupils, the event is being financed by the cities of Ontario and Upland, the Music Performance Trust Fund of the American Federation of Musicians, and individual and business donors. Contributions are still being sought and may be mailed to the West End Symphony Orchestra Association office at 217 S. Lemon Ave., Ontario 91761.

School districts participating are Alta Loma, Cucamonga, Chino, Colton, Corona, Etiwanda, Fontana, Guasti, Montclair, Mountain View, Mt. Baldy, Norco, Ontario, Rialto and Upland. Pupils from several private and parochial schools also will attend, as will mentally handicapped children from some districts.

Give and take

That extra energy Popeye gets from spinach is no joke; dietitians say that spinach is exceptionally high in nutritional value. Starting in the 1920s, spinach received much publicity for its wealth of calcium and iron, along with Vitamins A and C. But research has found spinach is rich in oxalic acid, which prevents the calcium from being utilized by the body.

"I have $6.50 in my bank, Mommy. Now can we get a horse?"

Minch and Dye vows said

MRS. GREG MINCH

Miss Marilyn Dye of Montclair and Greg Minch of Glendora were married recently in the Chapel of the Bells in Ontario. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dye of Montclair and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Minch were married by the Rev. James T. Burrage.

Honor attendant was Miss Penny Reuter of Hacienda Heights. Bridesmaids were Miss Rose Munch, La Puente, Darlene Downs, Ontario and Melinda Benham, San Dimas.

Standing as best man was Al Zeller of Azusa. Ushers were Chuck Dye, Montclair, Daryl Downs, Ontario, and Dan Cupp, Azusa. Flower girl was Priscilla Ridson and ring bearer was Anthony Book of Upland.

Following the rite, a reception was held at the Ontario Masonic Temple. When the couple returned from a wedding trip to San Diego, they established a home in Upland.

Members of the Claremont Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Robert Hall, 249 Briarcroft Road, Claremont. Dessert will be served at 1:30 p.m.

Speaker for the meeting will be Miss Nora G. Frisbie of Claremont, who will speak on "The Ferry Boat General Frisbie." The boat was named for John Blackman Frisbie who came with the New York Volunteers around Cape Horn to California during the War with Mexico, and remained to marry the daughter of the Mexican commandant, General Mariano G. Vallejo. The boat sailed the waters of San Francisco Bay during the early decades of the century.

Arrangements for the meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Arthur D. Jaynes of Pomona.

Chino Chapter City of Hope attended the City of Hope Roll Call at Century City Plaza Hotel.

Those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Tony Peich, Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. Burrell and Mr. and Mrs. Eiler Griffin.

The Chino Chapter turned in their check for $18,500. This money was raised in 1976 from a golf tournament, sale of fire works, a luau, Dairy and Business Men's Drive, and memorial contributions. The total turned in from all chapters was $2,826,215.

Chino Chapter's next fund raising will be its seventh Annual Golf Tournament, on April 19, at Los Serranos Country Club.

Beauty secret

A beauty secret from Family Circle's special February "Sunbelt" issue that is guaranteed, literally, to give you the peaches-and-cream complexion of a Southern belle: Use one peach mashed to a pulp or pureed in a blender and one egg white beaten just till stiff. Fold the peach puree into the beaten egg white and apply thickly to face and neck with fingertips. Let dry 15 to 20 minutes and rinse off with lukewarm water.

Women set meeting, reception

A meeting of United Methodist Women was held Tuesday evening at Walnut United Methodist Church.

A reception for the church organist, Rosemary Morris, was held after church services Sunday. Mrs. Morris is leaving the area. She will be replaced by Mrs. Sandy Poglitch.

Save two ways on your prescriptions at FedMart

(1) Low prices on prescriptions as prescribed by your doctor,

(2) Even more on generic drugs that we can dispense with your permission.

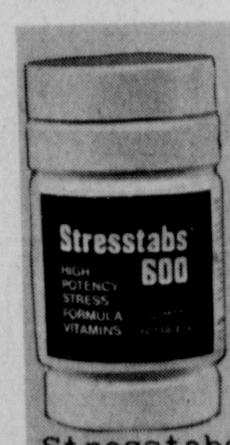

Generic drugs are medications produced by more than one manufacturer. They are identical in chemical composition and are distributed under a multitude of brand names.

Frequently, you can save up to 50% on a prescription when you request the Generic Drug. Generic Equivalents are available for many frequently prescribed drugs.

Examples of generic equivalents now available.

1. Actifed
2. Antivert
3. Aristocort
4. Arlidin
